Clean Cities Are Selection

RALEIGH—The cities of Winston-Salem, Durham, Asheville, Waynesville and Vass were named winners of North Carolina's Cleanest Cities awards for 1967, which is sponsored by the North Carolina Association of Launderers and Cleaners, Inc.

Gov. Dan Moore presented trophies to representatives from the five communities during a press conference at his office this afternoon.

Vass was the winner in the population category of less than 5,000; Waynesville from 5,000 - 10,000; Asheville 25,000 - 75,000; Durham 75,000-100,000 and Winston-Salem over 100,000.

The winners were selected from over 50 cities and towns which submitted monthly reports and other supplementary information through special committees organized by the Launderers and Cleaners in these communities.

"The committees in these five cities literally bombarded us with supplementary material in addition to their monthly reports. Naturally, the liaison established by these five committees, was a strong factor in determining the winners," stated the judges. "Our final evaluation shows that these five communities have established programs functioning in a highly proficient manner—coupled with lots of community action."

Williford FUNERAL HOME
EDENTON, N. C.

Dear friends,

Because of the diversity of religious beliefs and doctrines, it would be presumptuous for any funeral director to attempt to analyze or appraise any or all of these. But one thing is certain - the funeral can and often does reinforce or even originate a person's belief in survival after death.

Respectfully,

H. B. Williford Jr.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

THE SAVIOUR AND THE LOST

International Sunday School Lesson for Jan. 28

Memory Selection: "(They) said unto the woman, Now we believe, not because of thy saying; for we have heard him ourselves, and know that this is indeed the Christ, the Saviour of the world."—John 4:42.

Lesson Text: John 4:1-42.

The background of our lesson today stresses the universality of Christ as Saviour of the world. For in this lesson we find Him journeying through Samaria, a land which was hostile to the Jews—as, indeed, the Jews were to the Samaritans. Jesus, therefore, was once more in His life touching upon controversial ground when He and His little band of followers chose this particular route on the road to Jerusalem. But then—as we have seen in past studies—Jesus never permitted public opinion to stay Him from doing anything He felt was needful for the ultimate welfare of mankind.

So it is that Jesus—first asking the woman of Samaria for a drink of well water—used this opening to compare the transient slaking of thirst achieved by drinking water with the water of life He offered mankind. "But whosoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him shall never thirst; but the water that I shall give him shall be in him a well of water springing up into everlasting life." John 4:14.

What Jesus was saying was that in God is our source of life, and the end of our quest for truth.

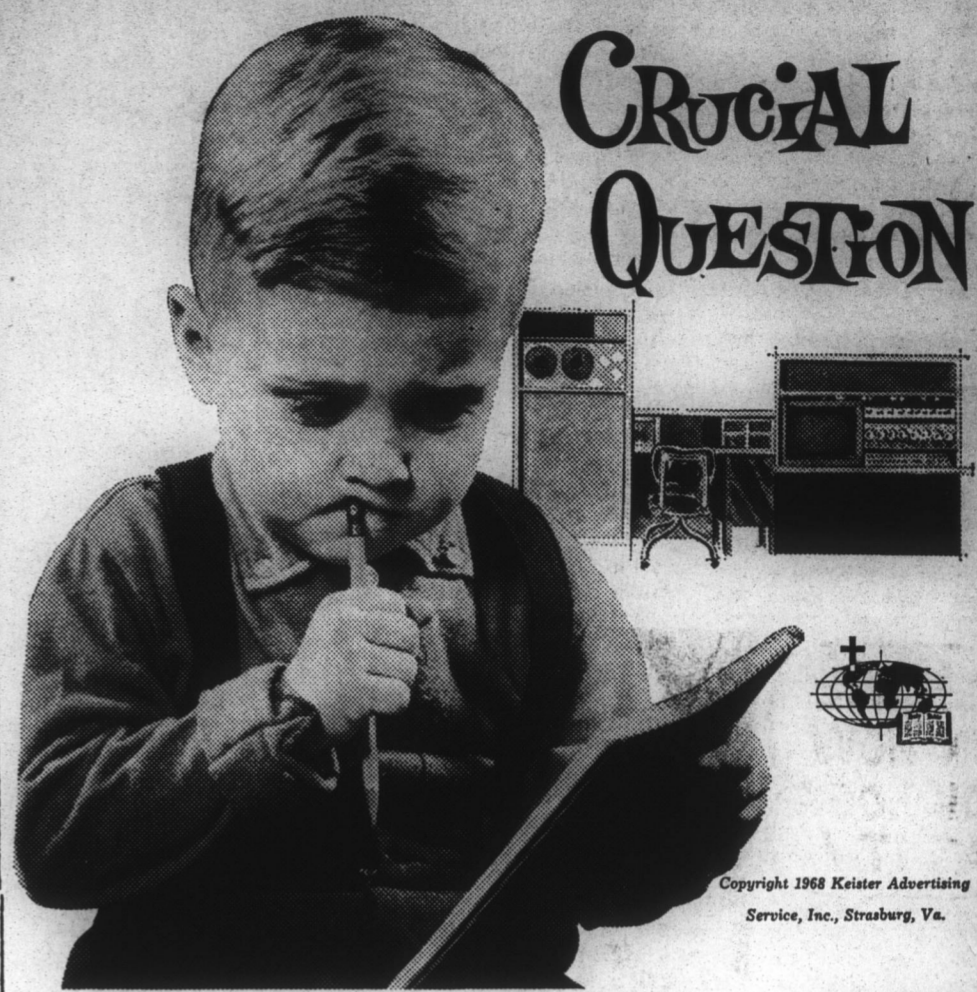

And in answer to the woman's question as to whether men should worship at Jerusalem or on Mount Gerizim, He made it clear to her that a place of worship could not limit the presence of God. For God was the Creator of the earth, of the seas, the sun, the moon and the stars; He created the birds and the animals; and—above all—He created man in His own image.

God was, therefore, universal; His kingdom awaited men everywhere—the only thing man had to do to avail himself of God's love and forgiveness of sins was to open his heart and do God's bidding in furthering the spread of the gospel to those who were still lost.

So it was with the woman at the well. Jesus, in revealing Himself as Messiah, planted a seed—a seed that quickly bore fruit. For the woman hurried back to the city, and told of her encounter at the well. And because of the woman's testimony, and also of the experience of many Samaritans with Jesus, they acknowledged Him as Saviour.

Thus it was that Jesus used a simple, everyday occurrence—the drawing of water from the well—to bring knowledge of salvation to everyday people. As His disciples, are we (in our time) as alert? Do we take advantage of every opportunity that is presented us, to demonstrate His presence in our personal and social lives? Do we—by example—stimulate others to ac-

CRUCIAL QUESTION

The chances are good that Bobby will get the right answer . . . that is, if Bobby has been given sufficient knowledge to put this problem within the limits of his capability!

And don't believe that any of these new electronic brains are any smarter than Bobby. Before one of them undertakes its task it must be fed every fact essential to arriving at an accurate solution.

Many folks worry about the youth of our nation. Too many boys and girls are coming up with tragically wrong answers to some of life's crucial questions.

But there is nothing inherently wrong with our youth. We simply must provide them, early enough and continuously, with the moral and spiritual understanding which life's problems demand.

The right program of religious training today will make possible right answers tomorrow.

A John Deere Tractor puts man and machine at their working best

It's a great combination — you as operator, an implement, and a John Deere 70 h.p. "3020" or 94 h.p. "4020" Tractor. Tractor hydraulic power takes over the heavy work — steering, braking, shifting, equipment control, PTO control, engaging the differential lock. This, along with maximum riding comfort and operating convenience, helps keep you fresh at the wheel. John Deere Tractors help implements work better, too. There's power and speed for drawn implements, an independent PTO for power-driven machines, Load-and-Depth Control for hitch-mounted equipment. Ask us for a demonstration of how a John Deere Tractor can help you farm easier and better. Convenient Credit Plan terms will help make ownership easier.
