When Twilight spreads its mysterious Veil
Across the Autumn Sky
And the Sun goes down with a rosy glow
And the leaves seem to rustle and sigh
I get the feeling of quiet content
And the gift of peace that God has sent.

I do enjoy the peace of late evening, when the birds seem to chatter among themselves, when there's a rainbow of color across the sky as the sun goes down and to look across Edenton Bay, when the water is as calm as glass—money cannot buy these things—thank God, they're all free!

Everyone is enjoying this wonderful Fall weather, but with almost a read of the cold days ahead. Now is the time to get all that yard work done, windows washed and house cleaned. But who wants to work so hard when the fish might be bitin'?

Looks like Edenton Methodist Church has closed up shop so to speak on Sunday mornings when no cars are parked in front of it. We hope someone will come up with a good solution to the parking problem. It seems to all boil down to the fact that there has to be more room for faster driving.

I do hope that you will keep in mind the important dates this week, like the food fair and luncheon at the Methodist Church this coming Friday. Chicken salad plates will be delivered if you'll call the church at 482-3289 or Miss Aurelia Layton at 482-2572. There'll be lots and lots of home-baked goodies and other delicious food for sale.

Then on Saturday the

A Thought to Remember

By MARVIN BARRHAM

Someone said years ago: "An adult who ceases after youth to unlearn and relearn his facts, and to reconsider his opinions, is like a blindfolded person walking into a familiar room where some-one has moved the furniture."

Life changes! When we were children it seemed like five years elapsed between Christmas and the Fourth of July. Today we can scarcely turn around until another year has passed. This is a case of relearning the facts. It is not that Christmas is of any less importance to us, but that each day, each hour has more value to us, and we are more concerned with the activities of the present than the months of the future.

The happiest of all people are those who say: "There just aren't enough hours in the day." It is a way of saying—"I failed to do all the wonderful and exciting things today I wanted to do."

OUR THOUGHT TO REMEMBER: Break time into bits, and enjoy every morsel to its fullest.

Colonial Funeral Home
Edenton, North Carolina

Eastern Star Chapter will sponsor a fish fry at the Edenton armory for the Masonic and Eastern Star Home. It will begin at 11 A. M. and continue until 7 P. M. Take Mom out of the kitchen and support this very worthy cause. To end the week with a good feeling — GO TO CHURCH SUNDAY!

HELPFUL HINTS

A few drops of ammonia added to each quart of water with which plants are watered will improve the color of the foliage and increase the growth.

One of those snip-top plastic bottles when empty makes a fine gadget for filling the steam iron.

When allowing salad to sit before serving, keep it fresh and crisp by placing an inverted saucer in the bottom of the bowl to take care of excessive dressing.

To prevent clogging when running dates or raisins through a food chopper, add a few drops of lemon juice.

Alcohol is far more cooling rubbed on the body than drunk.

Scott Not To Be Milk-Toast Gov.

Lt. Gov. Bob Scott has told the people of North Carolina not to expect his administration to be timid nor expect him "to be a milk-toast governor."

"When I see work that needs to be done, I will not hesitate to meet the problem head on," Scott said.

"I will not be a milk-toast governor. I will call on you for your support because by working together we can bring new life and energy into North Carolina."

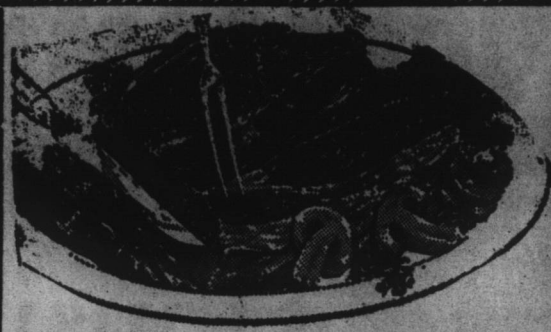

"Bob Scott will keep his hand on the pulse of public thinking. My energies will be attuned to the people for inspiration."

Scott reviewed his platform proposals, noting they are "sound and positive programs for our continued progress and advancement."

He called for an "improved and imaginative law enforcement program" as well as programs aimed at eliminating conditions that breed crime, unrest and lawlessness.

"We can and will move forward in education," Scott stated. He suggested a pilot kindergarten program and an expanded industrial arts and vocational program at the junior high school level.

Teachers deserve an increase in salary as well as clerical help, Scott said.
