

Woodland Event Winners Chosen; Prizes Given

L. C. Bunch, chairman of the Albemarle Soil and Water Conservation District, reports that the 7th annual Albemarle FFA Federation Woodland Clinic held last Thursday afternoon at Camp Cale in Perquimans County was very successful.

Ten schools from this area competed for top honors and prize money. Pasquotank Central won first place and received a check for $20 for their accomplishments. They also had the individual high scorer, Calvin Hewitt, who received a $5 prize. Gates County High School placed second for a $15 award and Perquimans County High School third for $10. This event is sponsored each year by the Albemarle Soil and Water Conservation District with the cooperation of the vocational agriculture teachers, the North Carolina Forest Service, Union Camp Corporation, and a newcomer this year, Jones Lumber Company.

The Forest Service selects the test sites and supervises the event. The prize money is donated by Union Camp Corporation and Jones Lumber Company.

George Winslow, district supervisor from Perquimans County and chairman of the clinic, states that the type of training received from a contest such as this is very beneficial to the boys participating. It was brought to the attention of the group by a number of the Vo-Ag teachers that several of the past contestants have gone into some phase of forestry work since completing their schooling.

Since approximately 60% of the land in this area is in woodland and when managed properly has a potential of producing a return of 12 to 15 dollars per acre per year, stronger emphasis should be placed along these lines.

SUCCESSFUL EVENT—FFA contestants are shown working on a typical test site at the annual Woodland Clinic. The event was termed successful.
