A LIFT FOR TODAY

He is not here; but is risen.—Luke 24:6.
Human hands made the door of the tomb,
but the Hand of God opened the door of it into Eternal Life. The true followers of Christ will have the same experience,
for we worship a Living, Risen Lord.
Fill our hearts with the life-giving message of the resurrection, and send us forth, as the disciples of old were commissioned,
to share the Gospel with the world which is groping in darkness, unable to see Thy Light of the World.

Hertford Doctor Taken In Death

HERTFORD—Dr. T. P. Brinn, Perquimans County's only full-time physician, died Monday afternoon. Death came at Albemarle Hospital in Elizabeth City following a lengthy illness.

Dr. Brinn was 70. He had been practicing medicine in Perquimans County since 1927.

Funeral services were held at 11 A. M. Wednesday at First United Methodist Church here and burial was in Cedarwood Cemetery.

Dr. Brinn, a native of Tyner, was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Thomas Brinn. He graduated from Hertford High School and received his degrees from the University of North Carolina and the University of Pennsylvania. He was a member of Phi Beta Kappa.

His last request was that flowers be omitted from his funeral, the money to go instead into a fund to further medicine in the county. Mrs. Lucille Winslow is treasurer of the fund.

Dr. Brinn was active in district and state medical societies and was president of Seaboard Medical Society in 1967-68.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Mary Goasson Brinn; three daughters Miss Mary Elliott Brinn of Hertford; Mrs. Marjorie B. Clayton of Roxboro; and Mrs. Anne B. Tucker of Shepard Air Force Base, Tex.; a sister, Mrs. Oneida Hooks of Fremont; two brothers, Jack and Robert Brinn, both of Hertford; and four grandchildren.

Swindell Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

ASHLEY IN COMMAND

Farless, corresponding secretary; George Clark, treasurer; and Jack Evans, chaplain.

Evans is chairman of the board and Dail is state director. Directors include: Louis Craddock, Brabble, Marvin Shaw, Mack Privott, Thomas Peele and Bill Boyce.

Tom Watts of Elizabeth City, a state Jaycee official, was principal banquet speaker. He challenged the organization to have a year of action and not filled with excuses for inaction.

Watts said those who have gone before have left the young men of today a heritage. "You have to build on this foundation of heritage," he stated.

The speaker called on his audience to produce growth and not stagnation. Club awards were:

Spark Plug, First Year: Thomas Peele, George Clark, Louis Craddock, Graham Farless, Billy Dail, E. C. Toppin, Steve Hampton, and Larry Williams.

Second Year: Jim Darnell, Marvin Shaw, Handy West and Bert Hughes.

Third Year: Bobby Bunch, Bob Weintraub, Junius Britton, Ken Stalls, Carlton Jackson, Earl Britton, Robert Dail and Jim Jenkins.

Fourth Year: Jack Evans, John Jethro, Oscar White, Bill Bunch and Frank Habit.

Fifth Year: Wallace Evans and Bill Boyce.

Sixth Year: Bob Waller.

Seventh Year: James C. (Pete) Dail.

Spoke Awards went to: Sidney Williams, Thomas Peele, Bill Hamilton, Woody Copeland, Billy Copeland, Melvin Copeland, Knapp Brabble, Miles Dunlow, Bill Cozart and Ray Smith.

Exhausted Roosters are: Frank Habit, Handy West, Carlton Jackson, Robert Brooks, Junius Britton and Walter Noneman.

Heard & Seen

"By Buff"

In case you've missed the political advertisements scattered throughout this issue of The Herald, as well as a sample ballot appearing elsewhere, here's a list of candidates for town offices in the municipal election scheduled for next Tuesday, May 6:

For Mayor the candidates are George Alma Byrum, Roy L. Harrell and Henry G. Quinn.

James M. Bond, incumbent, has as his opposition Mrs. Carolyn Ricks for the position of Town Treasurer.

There are four candidates for Councilman-at-large, including J. C. (Pete) Dail, Alton Elmore, Richard L. Satterfield and William H. (Bill) Collins.

In the Third Ward David G. White, Jr., incumbent, is being opposed by Edward W. Taylor, Jr.

In the Fourth Ward Luther C. Parks, incumbent, has Oscar F. Blair as his opponent.

There is no contest for the Board of Public Works, with two members to be elected. James P. Ricks, Jr., and W. J. P. Earnhardt, Sr., both are seeking re-election.

Well, there they are folks. All of 'em are angling for your vote. It's up to you to vote for those who you feel are best qualified and will make the best town officials. Some will be elected, but then some will be in the same boat as Charles DeGaulle of France.

And speaking about the election, I heard one fellow say, "Not a single candidate has asked for my vote." Maybe he had a little consolation in what a friend told him, "Maybe the candidates have a little consideration for your character and they didn't want you to tell a lie."

Well, Daylight Saving Time went into effect last Sunday but, unlike last year, nobody was seen coming to the Methodist Church for Sunday School and morning service after each one was over. Here's one who welcomes the change, for it allows at least one more hour to fish after working hours.

And speaking about fishing, the fishermen are getting plenty of bites up the creeks these days. I'm not talking about fish bites, but rather the devilish gnats. They made a meal off my arms, face and neck Saturday afternoon. Anyway fishermen have their share of troubles. First, there's the gnats and about the time they leave, the yellow flies will take over, only to be followed by the consarn mosquitoes—and added to all these troubles will be a group of high speed boats pulling ski enthusiasts, who sometimes almost wash a skiff out of the creek. Oh me!

Walter Bond is a bit poorer because he did not attend Monday night's Red Men meeting. A nice-size batch of change has accumulated which will go to the member whose name is pulled out of a box—provided this particular member is present at the time. Well, Walter's name was drawn from the box Monday night, but he wasn't there to pick up the money.

Here's one whose mouth was watering last week on account of word from one of my favorite nephews in Pennsylvania that he was sending us a batch of dandelion, and my father-in-law in Hagerstown, Md., was sending some rhubarb. Both have arrived and have been consumed with a relish. Maybe a lot of people don't know about eating dandelion, but it has chitterlings beat a mile—and besides when a youngster at home my mother always claimed that dandelion was a good spring tonic. Anyway, I'm grateful for both "contributions."

Edenton Red Men were shocked to hear that W. E. Yopp of Wilmington died suddenly Sunday morning as the result of a heart attack. Mr. Yopp for many years was Great Chief of Records of Improved Order of Red Men in North Carolina and was well and affectionately known by quite a few local Red Men. Red Men of the state have lost a very efficient leader and his loss will be keenly felt throughout the entire state.

Here's one who regretfully was obliged to miss the Albemarle Choral Society's annual spring concert in the Baptist Church Sunday afternoon. However, from what I understand, the rendition of the "German Requiem" by Johannes Brahms, sung in English, was greatly enjoyed by those who attended. As usual, Dr. Clifford Bair was the director, which coupled with the splendid talent he had to work with, was guarantee enough that the program was of the highest calibre.

Girl Scout Event

Some 200 Girl Scouts from this district are expected to converge on Edenton Saturday for completion of Long Games which have been underway for several months.

The group will gather at National Guard Armory and have fun and games from 9:30 A. M., to 12 noon. Eight troops from Elizabeth City will join the four Edenton troops for the event.

Truck Recovered

A truck stolen from Spedic Vending Service here over the weekend has been found abandoned in Cary, near Raleigh. Edenton Police were notified at 11:30 P. M., Tuesday that the vehicle had been located. None of the merchandise taken from the warehouse was reported recovered.

W. P. (Spec) Jones reported at 7:15 A. M., Monday that the warehouse in Industrial Park had been entered. A 1967 Ford van and a large quantity of merchandise was taken. There was very little damage to the building.

Investigation into the theft is being pushed by the police department. They are being assisted by the SBI.

Public Parade

moving society makes it virtually impossible for a community to draw a certain around its boundaries. What happens, or doesn't happen, to our neighbors sooner or later will have an effect on our lives.

For this reason, if for none other, those who meander along the Public Parade join in mourning the death of Dr. T. P. Brinn of Hertford. The removal of Dr. Brinn from the scene leaves Perquimans County without the services of a full-time physician.

Dr. Brinn, who was born in Tyner but migrated to Perquimans, was an institution. He was among the rapidly fading breed of country doctors. He kept abreast, though, with modern medicine and until his death had the best interest of his people in mind.

This is reflected in a last request. He didn't want flowers; he asked that contributions be made to further the cause of good medicine. If the challenge was not already present for those of influence to cast aside pettiness and get on with the program, it hangs over them now.

Doctors and good medical facilities play a vital role in what happens in our communities. Like schools, recreational facilities, municipal government, etc., those who seek to become a part of the community analyze them.

Dr. Brinn was bigger than his critics. He wanted excellence, not mediocrity. The fact he wouldn't settle for less is his shrine. Those capable of looking beyond their selfishness now have an opportunity to prove themselves.

And all of Northeastern North Carolina will then be an even better place in which to live, work and play.

Wolfpack Coming

There is a great deal of satisfaction in country journalism. While the moments of pleasure far outweigh the torture, there are guys around who like to make it a bit unpleasant.

About once or twice a year Al Phillips fits the bill.

Al happened to matriculate at the sub-division of the Greater University of North Carolina located in West Raleigh. If you weren't aware of this chances are you have lived here less than 10 days.

This branch of the University from time to time fields athletic teams which enjoy some degree of success. It is for this reason, we assume, that the Wolfpack Club ranks right up close to Phi Beta Kappa in the minds of some.

Those who join this club get special privileges, like having the right to 50-yard-line tickets when their team plays Chowan College, etc. Also, you buy the right to hear coaches explain why they didn't win.

Al gets so much pleasure out of announcing the Wolfpack Club luncheon meetings that he hand-carries them to us. He also issues an invitation for lunch. It appears to be one of the high points in his year.

They'll be meeting May 8 at 12 noon at Edenton Restaurant. Jack Stanton, an assistant of Coach Earle Edwards, will be here along with Jim Donnan.

While we don't want to leave the impression we endorse such a gathering, these are usually interesting and informative sessions.

P. S. We happened to have the opportunity to attend classes on the main campus, and there discovered the needle is sharp on both ends.

FIFTEEN CANDIDATES

you have moved within the past 30 days and did not obtain a transfer you will be allowed to return to your old precinct to vote.

In the last municipal election, 1,250 ballots were cast. There are now 1,912 voters registered in the Town of Edenton and the interest in the present election is expected to bring out at least 1,600 of them on Tuesday.

There are 1,418 white voters and 494 Negroes registered. East Edenton has 1,125 registered voters while there are 787 on the West Edenton books.

Those seeking election include:

MAYOR
George Alma Byrum, Henry G. Quinn and Roy L. Harrell.

TREASURER
James M. Bond and Mrs. Carolyn S. Ricks.

COUNCILMAN-AT-LARGE

Area Association Is Being Planned

Home economists from 14 counties will meet together Wednesday at 6 P. M. at the Edenton Restaurant to launch a regional home economics association. The new association will be a spin-off of the state-wide 1,500-member N. C. Home Economics Association.

The state organization has the framework to cope with general problems within the area of family living, but it is unable to tackle situations peculiar to one area of the state, Frances S. Voliva, temporary chairman of the regional association, said today. The important problem may be management in one region of the state; consumer competence in another, she explained.

Under the new organizational structure, each region may define the problem it believes to be most pressing and work toward its solution. The five other regions may select unrelated challenges.

Other benefits of the new association include: the opportunity for greater professional participation, a chance for home economists to become acquainted with other persons in the same field, a more compact method of expediting business and coordinating activities, and hopefully increased membership.

Serving on the steering committee with Mrs. Voliva are Mrs. Edna Reaves, home economics teacher; Mrs. Hattie S. Byrum, homemaker, and Mrs. Fran Ward, extension home economist.
