

Report From Washington By Rep. Walter B. Jones

Congress conducted an abbreviated week, recessing on Thursday, May 29, for an extended weekend to observe Memorial Day on May 30. In spite of the short week, a bill of great importance to the First Congressional District was passed which was the agriculture appropriation for the coming fiscal year. The total amount of this appropriation was $6.8 billion. This, of course, is a large sum of money, but it should be remembered that when we consider the agriculture appropriation there are many items which are not directly associated with farming per se. The milk program, school lunchrooms, research and foreign exchange, to name just a few.

Just as last year, an amendment was adopted by the House to limit the payments for farm subsidies to any one person or corporation in the maximum amount of $20,000. Another amendment which was offered and defeated was one of the most unreasonable that I have encountered since becoming a member of Congress. It was one which would have withheld federal funds from any federal agency within a state where it was felt that they were practicing discrimination. This would have included the Farmers Home Administration, ASCS, Soil Conservation, etc. With the unreasonable approach from the civil rights enforcement agencies, this would have caused a great deal of confusion and ultimately could have been a severe penalty to the farmers and rural land owners of both states. Certainly it is difficult to understand why anyone should attempt to inject a race issue in the matter of farm and conservation programs. Much attention has been focused on the real or imaginary problem of malnutrition and hunger in recent months. As a result, included in the agriculture appropriation bill was $120 million for the current year for the milk program. This represents an increase of $16 million over last year. For child nutrition or better known as the School Lunchroom program, the bill contained an appropriation of $311 million, as compared with $252 million for the current year.

Much has been said and written about the Food Stamp Program approach to our low-income citizens and this was reflected in an appropriation of $340 million, which tops last year's appropriation by $60 million. In other areas of interest to our district, I am delighted to report that in spite of strong opposition, we were able to retain certain items at least at last year's level. Farmers Home Administration operating loans remained at $275 million. However, we were able to increase the water and sewer grants from $28 million to $40 million. Agricultural Conservation program remained at $195.5 million and the important watershed program remained at the same $57.9 million.

With the increasing number of urban representation in the Congress, most of us who are concerned about the future of agriculture feel that we were extremely fortunate to survive. Certainly it is difficult to understand why

A Thought to Remember

By MARVIN BARHAM

There is a story told on the light side that goes something like this:

A young man was writing to his girl friend. "Darling, there is nothing I would not do for you. I'd swim the widest ocean. I'd climb the highest mountain. I'll see you Saturday night, if it doesn't rain."

It's remarkable how sometimes inconvenience can change a person's attitude. Some people will do anything as long as it is convenient. The great people of the world are those who are helpful and considerate regardless of conveniences. The world becomes a better place to live when you have considerate neighbors. Nothing stands in the way of people who are determined to be helpful. And for these people—we breathe a prayer of thanks.

OUR THOUGHT TO REMEMBER: "CONSIDERATE PEOPLE ARE THOSE WHO ARE MOST LOVED."
