A LIFT FOR TODAY

My times are in Thy hand; . . . deliver me from them that persecute me.—Psalm 31:15.

Godless nations show that man cannot live without God. The Prince of Peace has assured us of good from evil days.

Almighty God, we surrender our worried way to Thee and pray for release from evil, and victory through righteousness.

Economic Study

Virginia Electric and Power Company representatives have announced plans to prepare an economic study of Perquimans County.

Kenneth W. Lane, assistant manager of Community Development for Vepco, stated that the purpose of the study is to provide a reference of current economic information on the county. The study will encompass the entire county area and will include current economic data on all phases of the county's economy as well as a number of representative industrial sites. It is also to be used as a tool to assist in the economic and industrial development of the area.

Lane said, "In this highly competitive field of industrial development, it is essential that you have current economic data on your community, readily available and in presentable form, in order to work effectively with industrial prospects. This study will be prepared at no cost to the county and we welcome this opportunity to work with the people of Perquimans County on this community project."

Lane stated that the study had been requested by the Perquimans County Industrial Development Commission and the county board of commissioners.

An economic study committee has been formed to aid Vepco in the compilation of current information to be included in the study. The committee is headed by Mrs. Jean Harrison, Secretary, Hertford Chamber of Commerce and individual areas of the county are represented by the following county leaders:

H. Thomas Brown, Jr., R. C. Elliott, Bobby S. Heath, Edward Nixon, Frank
M. Roberts, R. M. Thompson and C. C.
Walters.

Presentation of the study by Vepco is tentatively planned for early December 1969.

My good friend Jack McMullan, even though I did not know it, has been confined in a hospital and though now at home, he is very weak. He sent me what he termed his "swan song," and here 'tis:

Dear Buff: When one has outlived his day and generation, he "feels like one who treads alone some banquet hall deserted; whose lights have fled, whose garlands dead, and all but him departed."

I definitely find myself in this category.
There comes a time when one feels the pangs of the demise of most of those people he most loved, admired and respected.
And, too, he is sorrowed when he notes the disintegration of the things and institutions he most cherished through life. A few days ago I received a great shock when I witnessed the demolition of one of my brain child—the old Municipal Building.

Fifty years ago I organized a company to build this structure and drew the plans for it. Later while Captain Wiggins was mayor it was purchased by the town for a city hall and has been occupied since by Mayors Spiers, myself, Kehayes, Haskett, Holton and Mitchener. Peace be to its memory.

The eternal law of compensation is always at work, so today I find consolation in the fact that the site of this building will be incorporated in the premises of the Cupola House, which has, too, been one of my life hobbies—for fifty years ago this building was preserved for the town when a group of patriotic citizens composed of Frank Wood as president and myself as secretary, together with John Wood, 1st, W. D. Pruden and wife Annie, J. N. Pruden, 1st, C. S. Vann Dr. Richard Dillard, Dr. R. B. Drane and Annie Graham.

Today the only survivors of the organizers of the Cupola House Corporation are Mrs. Annie Graham and myself.

Note: Jack McMullan was among the first of very few people to welcome me back in 1923 when I came to Edenton from Elizabeth City to help with a struggling small daily newspaper. It was the smallest newspaper office I had ever worked in, and it was due, for the most part, by Jack Mc-Mullan's urging to remain with the paper—either because I liked Edenton or couldn't get enough money to get away. Anyway, through the years I served under Jack as Mayor, participated on many various committees with him and in short profited by many of his suggestions. Jack, like a lot of us, is now in the twilight of his life, but before he departs he should have a great deal of consolation in the realization that he has done a lot of good for good old Edenton.

Edgar Rogerson, who now lives at Winston-Salem, was visiting relatives and friends this week and dropped in The Herald office to inquire about fishing. When living in Edenton, Edgar caught his share of fish hereabouts and said he was going to try 'em before he went back to Winston-Salem. Haven't heard how he made out, but those fish he caught years ago just "haint here no mo'."

Members of Edenton Chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star are getting ready for their fish fry to be held Saturday next to the Boy Scout Cabin. They are hoping a lot of people will patronize this fish fry, for all the proceeds will go to the Masonic and Eastern Star Home in Greensboro, where a large number of elderly men and women are spending the twilight of their lives in home-like surroundings. Fried fish will be served from 11 A. M. to 7 P. M. and in case anyone wants to buy a ticket, yours truly has a batch of 'em he wishes to get rid of.

Well, the Edenton Aces tucked another victory under their belts Friday night when they downed Dave Holton's Northampton High School gridders 28-0. However, the game was closer fought than the score indicates, for the visitors played us to a standstill for a goodly part of the game.
This Friday night an old rival, the Per-quimans Indians, will meet the Aces on Hicks Field, which should attract another large crowd of fans. Incidentally, don't you think the High School Band is just about as good or better than any band we have ever had? They're worth hearing, so go out to Hicks Field, listen to the band and see if the Aces can scalp the Indians.

Makeup Of D. D.

HATTIESBURG, Miss. — Take a pair of sparkling brown eyes, hair to match and set them on a trim five-foot, two-inch frame and you have the makings of a Dixie Darling.

More specifically you have Sanfra Ange, a vivacious brownette from Edenton, N. C., who is beginning her third season as a member of the nationally famous Dixie Darlings, the precision dance and drill squad of the University of Southern Mississippi.

The Darlings, who appear at most of Southern's football games and at least twice yearly on nationwide television, are composed of about 60 coeds who are chosen for their twirling and dancing abilities.

Sanfra, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
Howard M. Ange, is a graduate of John A. Holmes High School, and is pursuing an undergraduate degree in Business at USM.

During her college career Sanfra has been a Pom Pom girl, a group that appears at the university's basketball contests; a member of Delta Delta Delta social sorority and a sponsor for a company of the university Reserve Officers Training Corps Brigade.

In her spare time—limited during the football season as the D. D.'s work-out at least two hours a day, five days a week—she enjoys skiing, horseback riding and surfing.

discussed. It takes a particular breed to weather the storms and keep his good humor.

Joe Nowell, one of two first district commissioners, is proving his ability to do this. Joe admitted when Gov. Bob Scott made the surprise appointment that he didn't know too much about farming, and nothing about highways.

Somewhere, however, he has run into a good tutor. In a few short months he has proven he will go to bat for what he believes is right, fighting tooth and nail.

He did this job so well that it took a vote of Chairman Lauch Faircloth to keep the district office way up yonder in Hertford County when the most logical place would have been in Perquimans, near the center of the district.

And now he is taking on the Virginia State Highway Commission as to where North Carolina should join them with a four-lane road. Now these are problems only Joe and his Virginian counterparts can work out.

We'll continue to support his efforts.
That is, until we learn the super highway he proposes to program to open up Northeastern North Carolina doesn't come through Chowan.

More On Former Aces

Recently we passed along to those who meander along the Public Parade the splendid job Wes Chesson, a former member of the Edenton Aces, is doing at Duke University.

While we have no intention of turning this into a sports column, we do want to say others who played with Wes are also sparkling. They, too, in defeat.

The column's East Carolina University scout reports Dwight Flanagan set a team record recently. He compiled 65 yards on a pass-run. It turned out to be the longest such play in ECU history where a touchdown wasn't scored.

This is sorta backyard records but shows Dwight is still a pretty fancy step-per on the gridiron.

Charlie Swanner and Billy Wallace are also doing good work for ECU's Pirates, who like the Blue Devils are having difficulty winning. They can, however, come home on Friday nights and watch their alma mater do what they aspire to do — win.

URBAN RENEWAL

Mayor Byrum publicly commended the police department for their recent activity, pointing out that Supt. of School Bill Britt had commended the department for their handling of the crowd at a recent football game.

Mayor Byrum said although the department is under strength and has been further hampered by illness, the men continue to do a good job.

Gardner was instructed to advertise for two new police cars. Also, he was instructed to get prices on improvements to the Hobowsky property on West King Street, where a parking lot will be built.

The administrator was instructed to get proposals on painting at the Municipal Building.

Permission was granted College of the Albemarle to use a building at Edenton Municipal Airport for training auto and farm implement mechanics provided the students enrolled come from this general area.

Mayor Byrum called attention to complaints about traffic problems at D. F.
Walker School. He appointed Councilman David G. White, Gardner, Police Chief J. D. Parrish and J. C. Parks, street superintendent, to work out the problem.

Chamber Drive

Two-thirds of the 1969-70 budget of Edenton Chamber of Commerce has been realized during the current membership campaign.

E. N. Manning, membership chairman, said the campaign to raise $16,500 for the chamber is still going extremely well. He said while it is taking longer than had been anticipated, the goal is expected to be reached in the near future.

The current budget is 10 per cent higher than last year.

At the same time Robert W. Moore, executive vice president, announced the appointment of Mrs. Garland Askew as office secretary. Mrs. Askew replaces Mrs. C. W. Overton who resigned when her husband was transferred to Raleigh.

Mrs. Askew moved to Edenton recently when her husband became associated with W. J. P. Earnhardt, Jr., in the practice of law.

Woman's Club Presents Projects

The Edenton Woman's Club has adopted as its major project of the year the raising of $1,000 to furnish a room at the new Chowan County Hospital in memory of Inglis Fletcher.

The first fund raising project will be a Flea Market to be held Saturday at the former Griffin Musiccenter building at Broad and King Streets. Hours will be from 10 A. M., to 3 P. M.

Other projects under consideration by the club to help raise the needed funds are a teenage dance, a handiwork workshop and a bridge luncheon.

Mrs. Warren Twiddy, the club woman of the year, will compete in the district for the Carrie Earnhardt Award for the most outstanding club woman in the district.

The District Sixteen District Meeting will be held next Wednesday at The Carolinian at Nags Head. The Manteo Woman's Club will be host.

The Edenton delegation will be headed by Mrs. Robert Moore, club's president.

The club's November meeting will be a Christmas Workshop.

The club is presently conducting the in-town solicitation for the American Cancer Society for the Chowan Chapter.
The Edenton Woman's Club has collected for the cancer drive the longest period of time of any Woman's Club in the state.

Douglas Is Named

It was announced in Raleigh Tuesday that a federal grand jury there had indicted a former local plant manager on charges of transporting stolen goods in interstate commerce.

John J. Douglas allegedly transported peanuts from Seabrook Blanching Corporation here across the North Carolina-Virginia line. There are three overt acts alleged, in 1966, 1967, and 1968, each charging transportation of goods valued at more than $5,000.

Douglas was plant manager at Seabrook until he resigned late last year to establish Tidewater Blanching Company in Suffolk, Va. He is president of the Tidewater firm.

TWO JOIN HANDS

missioners have pledged to use revenue from the tax to reduce taxes on real and personal property.

The N. C. League of Municipalities has estimated the local option sales tax revenue would be $110,000 to Chowan County and $34,000 to the town. This is equal to 36 cents on the county tax rate and 34 cents on the town rate, based on July, 1969, valuations.

Those promoting a favorable vote claim business does not decrease after a one cent sales tax has been added.
