Immanuel Plans Events

Sunday will be a special day at Immanuel Baptist Church. The church members will celebrate both homecoming and the anniversary of their first year in the new building located on West Queen Street, at Westover Heights.

Rev. Russell W. Rice, pastor, said Sunday School will begin at 10 A. M., with worship services to follow at 11 A. M. After the morning services a picnic lunch will be served.

The special homecoming events continue at 2:30 o'clock with services featuring Rev. and Mrs. Bill Bernstein. They will present a program of special music as well as a message of interest to children.

Mr. Bernstein and his friend, "Bernie", will be conducting the daily vacation Bible School at Immanuel Monday through Friday. Each morning the school will begin at 9:30 o'clock and continue until 11:30 o'clock.

The program conducted by "Pastor Bill" includes missionary stories, Bible stories, gospel magic, songs and Bible memorization. Assisting him daily will be his wife, Aileen.

Free transportation will be provided by the church. If anyone desires this service, Mr. Rice asks that they call 482-3567.

Fourteen Complete Class For Nurse Assistants

course, sponsored by the Adult Division of the College of the Albemarle, was successfully completed by 14 adults primarily of the Edenton-Chowan area.

Mrs. Dorothy Pavlich, RN, instructor, taught the basic as well as some of the more advanced techniques of bedside nursing.

With the completion of this class, 54 Chowan area adults have been awarded nurse assistant certificates. This allows Chowan Hospital to employ only those people having nurse assistant certificates for this area of nursing. Presently, 22 of the 54 graduates are employed at the hospital.

Anticipating future needs of qualified employees of the nurse assistant category, the hospital will be offering another course of this type in approximately a year's time.

Elmore Is Cited By Belk Tyler

Alton G. Elmore, manager of the local Belk Tyler Store since February, 1962, was presented a 20-year service pin by L. A. Bailey, executive vice president of the Belk Tyler Stores, in Rocky Mount last week.

In making the presentation, Bailey commended Elmore for his years with the company, which began as a high school extra before becoming a full-time employee on June 1, 1950 in the Rocky Mount store.

During the 20 years with Belk Tyler, taking time out from November, 1952, to November, 1954, to serve in the U. S. Army, Elmore worked in the Rocky Mount store in various capacities, including advertising and public relations director.

He came to Edenton as manager in February, 1962, when the former manager of the local store, J. R. DuLaney, resigned to enter private retail business.

Being courteous may require a little extra time but, in the long run, it often saves time.

Calico Scallops

Many people are glad to see the calico scallop being harvested in commercial quantities again. Of course, no one knows how long this will last. Since 1959, we have experienced four cycles of production peaks. Even with the present situation we just don't know all we should know about our resource.

While our present supply boats are busily harvesting scallops, shucking houses are operating and a considerable number of people are working. But, we are still having problems with the quality of meats going to market and the image the scallop industry creates locally.

First, let us re-state some suggestions on handling scallops. These are:

1. Least time possible between harvest and shucking.
2. Keep temperature down.
3. Do not keep large piles of scallops on shucking table.
4. Shuck into a clean container with a clean knife. Suggest stainless steel or plastic container, avoid sharp edges and hard to clean rims.

5. As each gallon is shucked deliver to packing room.

6. Wash quickly on skimmer. Do not wash large quantities at a time. Try to get eel grass, attached shell particles and other foreign material off the scallop meats.

7. Drain.

8. Pack and ice immediately.

9. Wash shucking pail, shucking knife and bucket in sanitizing solution before returning to work.

10. Take pride in your work.

Secondly, the sanitation within and without the shucking houses has become very lax. We should try to clean up inside to have a better product, that is of high quality, low in bacteria count, and pleasing to the consumer. We must get the outside of the shucking house cleaned up and maintained in a sanitary manner because high summer temperatures and waste products lead to bad odors.
