

BROAD STREET BULLETIN...

By Kate

Each morning I pray for faith enough
To see me through the day,
To claim the goodness of my God,
His promises guide the way.
For faith's the sure way
To banish days of pain,
It's ours just for the asking,
In prayer His love to gain.

I wish I could share a wonderful experience which I had this past Sunday. Several of my good, good friends, my son Martin and Buff went to Norfolk to hear Katherine Kulman, a dedicated messenger of God. We actually saw people healed through her ministry, almost unbelievable. She claimed no power of her own for healing, except the power of Faith. She has helped me see the power of God working through her. If any of you will come by to see me, I will tell you all about this wonderful experience.

I am so thankful and grateful for what God has given me. I know now His many blessings, but let me tell you now that if you hold malice or a grudge, replace it with love and forgiveness and you will be so much happier.

I want to publicly thank all the dear friends of mine who sent me flowers and food. Isn't it funny or strange if you realize just how much friends mean to you and everyone forgets their own troubles when they are doing something for others?

I do love company to come sit with me and to enjoy our birds. I miss my friend Lena Jones, who is now at Montreat. In her letters she tells me how cool it is up there. It must be a lovely place, but I wish it was nearer, so that Lena could drop in. She's such a cheerful person and so understanding.

Here is a poem that my friend Mae Neilson brought to me. Being a grandmother herself, she knew how I would appreciate this. Oh for just a glimpse now and then to see my own dear ones.

A Grandmother Is a Lady Who . . .

has no children of her own, so she likes other people's little girls — grandmas don't have to do anything except be there. They are old, so they shouldn't play hard or run—usually, they are fat, but not too fat to tie kids' shoes. They wear glasses and funny underwear. They can take their teeth and gums off.

It is better if they don't typewrite or play cards except with us. They don't have to be smart, only answer questions like why dogs hate cats and how come God isn't married.

They don't talk baby talk like visitors do, because it is hard to understand. When they read to us, they don't skip or mind if it is the same story again.

Everybody should try to have one, especially if you don't have television, because Grandmas are the only grown-ups who have got the time.

A FEW HINTS

To remove yellow from kitchen sinks, bleach the area with lemon juice.

Fill your newly emptied coffee can with soft chocolate cookies and freeze when served later. Cookies will have a delicious mocha flavor.

Nail polish remover will quickly get off the price markings from glass, metal, plastic and china objects without leaving a mark of any kind.

MISS UNIVERSE 1970??

Here's a preview look at the swimsuit to be worn by all Miss Universe 1970 contestants. Designed by Catalina, it will give each aspiring winner equal advantage in displaying her curvaceous figure, because it's made in five bright colors in a new Ashway tricot fabric of nylon and "Lycra" spandex—a wispily figure-controlling fabric that shows off natural body contours to best advantage. The Miss Universe Pageant will be televised nationally from Miami Beach this July.
