Holmes Band Honored

That the music department in the Edenton-Chowan Schools stands on its own merit has once again been established. The most recent honor was bestowed on six instrumental band students, who were chosen to the Junior High All-State Band.

Annette Partin, Reggie Satterfield, Allen Downum, Ervin Alexander, Herbert Hill, and Steve Lane were selected locally to participate in the Northeastern Regional Junior High All State-Band conference at Atlantic Christian College on February 26, 1976.

Based on their performance, all six of the students were chosen for the

All-State Band. Over 300 students from the Northeastern region participated in the conference. Otis Strother, band director, accompanied the Edenton group.

Candidacy Announced

RALEIGH — Former Chapel Hill Mayor Howard Lee announced here Wednesday that he is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Lieutenant Governor of North Carolina.

In launching his campaign, Lee said, "I am not running because some poll indicates that I will win. I'm running because I believe in my heart that I have an equal chance to win, and that the people of North Carolina will respond to a candidate who offers progressive ideas and a record of honest, responsible public service."

"I have just finished a third term as mayor of a medium-sized North Carolina community. I know what it's like to struggle in a single day with problems of water supply, decaying housing, drug abuse and public transportation. I believe that state government can and must concentrate on helping local government with these problems. I promise to keep reminding myself, legislators and others in Raleigh that government wasn't created by and for its officials. It was created by and for the people."

"If you elect me to the lieutenant governor's office, you won't come in and find any special interests sharing that chair with me. I am not an enemy of big business. But when it comes to a conflict between big business and the people, you can expect to see me walking with the people," Lee said.

Lee, 41, is the son of a sharecropper family in Lithonia, Ga. He is a 1959 honor graduate of Fort Valley State College, Fort Valley, Ga. Following service in the Army, he received his masters degree in social work from the University of North Carolina in 1966.

Also in 1966, Lee was named Director of Youth Services at Duke University; and in 1968, he became Director of Employee Relations at Duke and Assistant Professor of Sociology at N. C. Central University. He is currently on leave from his post as Duke University's Director of Human Development.

Defying all odds, Lee was elected mayor of Chapel Hill in 1969 with 52 per cent of the vote. He was re-elected in 1971 with 64 per cent, carrying every precinct in the city; and in 1973 he won a third term as mayor, beating his opponent five to one.

Lee has long been a leader in the Democratic Party, having served on the party's Legislative Committee (1968-70) and as vice-chairman of the N. C. Democratic Party (1970-72). He is currently a Democratic National Committeeman.

Lee has served on the governing boards of many organizations and institutions: The National Association of Social Workers, the Southern Regional Council, the N. C. Heart Association and the Board of Trustees of Wake Forest University. In 1971, he was awarded the Honorary Doctor of Laws degree by Shaw University.

Lee is a former deacon of the Binkley Baptist Church in Chapel Hill, and has served as a leader of the church's Boy Scout troop. Lee is married to the former Lillian Wesley of Savannah, Ga. The Lees have three children: Angela, Ricky, and Karin.

William J. Taylor

New Service Being Offered

The Edenton Employment Office has recently introduced an additional service to the public. A full-time employment counselor to work with people in solving their job-related problems is added.

Mrs. Alice W. Bond, manager, announced that William J. Taylor, formerly an accountant with ARPDC, has joined the Employment Security Commission in Edenton and will work as a counselor. Taylor was born in New York and received his education at Columbia University. He resides with his parents at Route 2, Edenton.

Anyone who has a job-related problem is eligible for counseling and there is no charge for the service. The employment counselor will also service the Gates, Perquimans, and Tyrrell counties on a flexible schedule.

Persons who are having trouble getting or keeping a job, or those who are not satisfied with the work they are now doing could benefit from employment counseling.

Workers who are not physically able to continue their regular line of work, or young people who have not yet chosen a permanent vocation could benefit from Employment Counseling.

Housewives who have been out of the labor market for a long time and would like to go back to work, and workers who have been unemployed for a long period and would consider re-training for some other type of work could benefit from employment counseling.

Recently separated veterans, or veterans of previous eras, who would like assistance in deciding the best way to utilize their G.I. educational benefits, are urged to apply for counseling.

Our counselor, William J. Taylor, is available to help. If you have a job related problem, just call 482-2195 for an appointment for employment counseling.
