Legion Sponsoring Flea Market

Beginning this Saturday, American Legion Post 40 will sponsor a Flea Market at the fairgrounds for individuals who wish to market items. The grounds will open each Saturday at 9:30 A.M. and close at 5 P.M., and a fee of $3 will be charged each seller. Admission is free to buyers. George Stokes, Post 40 representative, explained that the Legion itself will not be selling items, and sellers will be responsible for pick-up or delivery. Items not sold on a particular day must be removed at the close of the grounds. Selling from outside will be strictly open-air, but restroom facilities inside will be open.

Joins Campaign

RALEIGH—Solomn W. Marshall of Cary has joined former State Sen. George M. Wood's campaign for lieutenant governor as the organization's state treasurer. Marshall, executive vice president of Marshall Oil Company in Wake Forest, is a graduate of the University of Hawaii and the Graduate School of Business of Harvard University. The Wake County businessman will handle all of the financial aspects of the Wood campaign, including responsibility for reporting expenditures and contributions to the State Board of Elections.
