HOOTS
AN INTERESTING MORNING - I can truthfully say that I spend very few dull days since I can usually find something enjoyable in almost any situation. But some days are definitely more interesting than others, especially when I chance to meet new people, see new places and explore new ideas. Last Friday provided an opportunity for all three.

It happened like this. I had called the State Library to ask for some help (not an unusual occurrence since I do that rather often) and was referred to a man I hadn't met: Gene Curtis, the consultant for service to institutions. In the course of our conversation, he mentioned that he planned to visit Washington County in the very near future in order to answer another request for help - from the State's Department of Correction Unit in Creswell. Never one to be bashful, I asked to tag along when he made his visit, and that led to my very interesting morning.

Gene Curtis proved to be a fascinating companion, an ex-Navy Chaplain with a great sense of humor the ability to make himself at home in any situation. I had never "toured a prison unit before so I was a bit unsure of our reception but was immediately put at ease by the first official who greeted us - Bill Turner, whom I had met in the home of his mother-in-law, Chowan County Librarian Louise Darby.

I soon discovered that Gene and I were not the only visitors concerned with library service to the inmates. (They use the word "population" in referring to the men.) We were joined by Dr. Ben Speller and George Buie from Elizabeth City State University who were very willing to cooperate in planning for an improved library at the correctional unit.

The Bookmobile of the Pettigrew Regional Library has been serving the unit in Creswell on a regular three-week schedule and it was very gratifying to hear our service praised. The inmate librarian, Jimmy, had nothing but kind words for the Bookmobile Librarian, PEARL Furlough. But she and I have long been aware that more was needed. They now have a trailer which is used as a classroom which

Yacht Club Plans Regatta

A sailboat regatta has been scheduled by Edenton Yacht Club in conjunction with the Edenton-Chowan Bicentennial observance in April. Announcements of the plans were made at the first annual membership meeting of the club, which was held at Mrs. Boswell's Restaurant.

Also revealed was the organization of a youth sail training group to be sponsored by various members of the club. The project was slated following a gift of a 17-foot sailboat by James P. Bissiker, president of Grampian Marine Ltd., of Oakville, Ontario, Canada. Retiring commodore Larry Rose announced the up-coming activities.

Officers elected for the year were: Charles Ogletree, commodore; Larry Tynch, vice commodore of sailboat racing; Telmon Keel, vice commodore of cruising; and Al Howard, vice commodore of power boats.

Terry Gannon, retiring vice commodore of sailboat racing, presented the first place trophy for points to Gil Burroughs. Warren Hibbard held a close second.

The Grampian Trophy for the July 4 race was presented to Larry Tynch. Second place was taken by Max Busby.

Cruising activities during the previous year, despite an abundance of bad weather, included a barbecue at Salmon Creek and an overnight trip to Columbia where the club was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ogletree.

can be fitted up as a library and the subject of our conference was the planning of a small library. In addition, we were given a tour of the vocational classrooms which included the mess hall (they teach culinary arts), a carpentry shop, a welding shop and a learning lab. Altogether, it was a very interesting morning.

SCHREECHES

GOLFING GRANDMOTHER - When Beverly Wolter interviewed me for the Department of Cultural Resources some months ago, she gave me a new label which made the headline in one of the newspapers which printed her article. She called me the "golfing grandmother" and the first part, at least, certainly fits since I am more typical as a golfer than a grandmother.

On the last week-end in February, I was out of my element among my three grandchildren, their parents and the other assorted relatives in Love Valley. The setting was charming - a Western village with horses to ride and plenty of open spaces for the children to play. My youngest grandson had a great time with a set of doting great-grandparents as well as his other grandmother (who likes to hold him even when he cries) and his grandfather all helping to spoil him.

The first week-end in March brought an end to the unseasonably warm weather but I managed to enjoy a couple of hours on the golf course with my oldest daughter's boys. Golf was foremost on their list of things to do in Plymouth, so I had no trouble playing grandmother here.

DON'T MAKE POISONING EASY!

Kids are inquisitive, there is no getting away from the fact. Before you can bat an eyelash, they are into this or that. Most of the time it is harmless and great fun to watch them explore their newly found world.

Keep it fun by not making it easy for children to find their way into situations that can be harmful. Medicine cabinets are a good example. Keep medicines locked up if possible or at least high enough up so that children cannot reach them. And, we will be glad to help you to properly dispose of any old medicines.

YOU OR YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a delivery. We will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people rely on us for their health needs. We welcome requests for delivery service and charge accordingly.
