Symphony Set For Carnegie Hall Debut

RALEIGH—The N. C. Symphony, under the baton of Maestro John Gosling, will make its New York debut on March 9, 1977, in Carnegie Hall.

Thomas W. Bradshaw, Jr., president of the N. C. Symphony Society, made the announcement at the Society's annual meeting held in the Capital City.

R. J. Reynolds Industries, based in Winston-Salem, has awarded the Symphony a generous grant to help defray the expenses involved in transporting the 70 professional musicians of the N. C. Symphony to perform in New York.

The N. C. Symphony, voted one of the nation's 31 "major" orchestras by the American Symphony Orchestra League when it held its Bicentennial convention in Boston in June, will travel to New York along with the Chorale of Duke University which will be featured in a largescale choral work.

According to Maestro Gosling, the Symphony's artistic director and conductor since 1972, preliminary plans for the Carnegie Hall concert include the first New York presentation of "Assembly and Fall" by Ned Rorem. Pulitzer Prize-winner Rorem wrote this piece especially for the North Carolina Symphony, which gave its world premiere in Raleigh Memorial Auditorium in October 1975.

Social Security Administration News

By Lee Wallio
Field Representative
Proof of Age Needed
How old are you? Can you prove it?

Everyone answers the first question quickly, and most people will say "of course" to the second. But a surprising number of people find their "proof"—their drivers license or voters registration card—is not enough when they apply for Social Security benefits.

It is necessary to prove your age to get most Social Security benefits because age is a factor in determining eligibility. Workers must prove they're at least 62 before they can get retirement benefits for themselves and their families. Widows or dependent widowers must prove they're at least 60 (at least 50 if they're disabled). The age of children must be proved.

And the age of young workers who become disabled is important, because if they are under 31, they need fewer years of work under Social Security to be eligible for disability—as little as a year and a half if under age 24.

Proof of age continues to cause more problems than any other type of proof needed for Social Security benefits. Many people find when they apply for Social Security benefits that the age on their drivers license does not agree with that on their life insurance policy. And very often neither of those will agree with Social Security records established when the person applied for a Social Security number.

The best proof of age is a birth certificate or a religious record of age established before your 5th birthday. But if such a record is not available, a combination of other documents may be used to arrive at your correct age. These may include a school record, census record, a Bible or other family record, a religious record established in early adult life, insurance policy, marriage record, employment record, labor union record, fraternal organization record, military record, vaccination record, delayed birth certificate, birth certificate of a child showing age of the parent, or a passport. Older records of age are preferred.

It is a good idea to get your birth or baptismal certificate well ahead of the time you need it. It can save a lot of time when you apply for social security benefits

The Elizabeth City Social Security office is located at 111 Jordan Plaza. The telephone number is 338-2161. The office is open from 9:00 A. M. to 4:30 P. M. Monday through Friday.
