

1978 Oldsmobile Highlights

A new diesel engine (top photo) and a completely redesigned Cutlass highlight Oldsmobile's 1978 offerings. The engine, the first domestically-built diesel available in a U.S. passenger car, provides outstanding fuel economy. This 5.7-litre V-8 General Motors diesel engine is optional on Oldsmobile's 1978 Eighty-Eights, Ninety-Eights and Custom Cruiser station wagons. The new Cutlass is fuel-efficient, offers interior and luggage roominess plus excellent handling and riding comfort. The Cutlass lineup features eight models, including the Cutlass Supreme (lower photo). Oldsmobile General Manager Robert J. Cook expects Oldsmobile dealers will sell a record 1.1 million cars during the 1978 model year.

Cotton Picking Resumes Following Rainy Period

RALEIGH — Fields dried and mechanical pickers were able to resume cotton harvesting about the middle of last week.

Due to the normal delay for ginning and transporting samples to the Raleigh Classing and Market News Office, however, the resumption of harvesting did not reflect in samples received for classification this week. This office classified only 3,550 samples during the week, compared with 5,800 classed the previous week. This season's total has now reached 34,544 which is 59 per cent of the estimated-production for the state.

The quality of the cotton classed was lower than the previous week. The predominant grade was 51 representing 37 per cent; followed by 41 representing 23 per cent. The spotted and light spotted grades accounted for 23 per cent of the samples classed.

Staple length continues good. Eight per cent stapled 34, 66 per cent stapled 35 and 27 per cent measured 36.

Micronaire readings improved slightly, averaging 5.0 for the week as compared to 5.1 for the previous week. Zero gauge Pressley fiber strength of the samples tested averaged 87,000 per square inch.

Market activity was slow. Cotton that was not committed to contract is being held by producers. Only a few small crop lots of mixed grades moved into the trade channels, at prices ranging from 45 to 48 cents per pound.

Cottonseed prices to producers range from $60 to $70 per ton "as is."

Cotton Quality Classed Higher

RALEIGH — Cotton harvesting made steady progress and has passed the halfway mark. By mid-week heavy rains occurred, interrupting cotton harvesting the remainder of the week. Prices declined and marketing of the crop was slow.

Through last Friday the Raleigh Cotton Classing and Market News Office had classed 25,310 samples. This compares with 17,383 samples classed through the same date last year.

The quality of the cotton classed was higher in grade as 76 per cent were classed in the white grades compared to 66 per cent the previous week. Light spotted grades accounted for 20 per cent of the samples classed and 7 per cent were spotted. Five per cent were reduced in grade because of grass.

Staple length is excellent with 10 per cent stapling 34; 66 per cent stapling 35 and 24 per cent stapling 36.

Micronaire readings are still high with 45 per cent miking in the 3.5 to 4.9 range, and 55 per cent miking 5 and higher. Fiber strength of the samples tested averaged 88,000 pounds per square inch.

Merchant demand was moderate and the light volume of cotton offered moved readily. Producers received from 43 to 49 cents per pound for mixed crop lots.

Cottonseed prices are still running $60 to $70 per ton at the gin.
