

Summer Programs Slated

"Providing a continuous learning experience and striving to eliminate the regression of learning during the summer are but two reasons the Migrant Program is working cooperatively with the Edenton-Chowan Board of Education to offer the best possible learning situation for both migrant and non-migrant children," remarked Mrs. Loretta Guard, director of the Edenton-Chowan Migrant Program and coordinator for the summer school program to be offered to students in grades 1-12.

Registration day for 7-12 students is June 9 from 10 A.M. - 3 P.M. at John A. Holmes High School. The secondary summer school program will run from June 15-August 4, with July 3 and 4 as holidays.

"The Migrant Program will channel its participants into the regular summer school by paying the same tuition, transportation and instructional materials costs as non-migrant students," Mrs. Guard noted. She added that "the migrant program will also offer professional and para-professional tutorial services to both elementary and secondary migrant

Gov. Appoints R. T. Brinn To Council

GREENVILLE — R.T. Brinn of Rocky Mount and Hertford has been appointed by Gov. James B. Hunt to the Governor's Business Council on the Arts and Humanities.

Brinn is assistant to the director and senior business-community development specialist of the Regional Development Institute at East Carolina University.

He will serve on the council which will seek to develop and promote the state's cultural resources and utilize them in economic growth and development. Specifically, the council will consult on the cultural interests of foundations and corporations, advise the Department of Cultural Resources on legislation; promote North Carolina culture on a national scale and advise state government on effective public programs.

Brinn is a native of Hertford, in Perquimans County.

students needing a one-to-one instructional program to continue to progress." Where need is established, Clothing and medical services will be provided to eligible migrant children. During the summer from June 5 to July 7 a State supported Driver and Traffic Safety Education course will be offered at no cost to a limited number of students age 14½ to 18, who are not pre-registered for driver ed during next year's regular school term or who were not able to work it into next year's schedule. Applications for Driver Education should be filed in the superintendent's office by today.

Difolatan Treatments Recommended For Melons

Murray L. Goodwin Agricultural Ext. Agent We feel sure that things are looking better for you now than they did a short while ago. Now it looks like we will have some cantaloupes and watermelons to spray.

Area farmers are making progress in controlling leaf diseases on cantaloupes and watermelons year by year, but we have not won the battle by any means! Last year was not a bad year for leaf diseases late in the season due to the dry weathers.

Now is the time to get your spray materials lined up. While there are some differences in the diseases that affect watermelons and cantaloupes, they are so similar that we believe you can use the same program for both watermelon and cantaloupes.

Our suggested program is as follows: (Treat first when plant runners are about 6 inches long. Treat about every 10 days to 2 weeks.)

1. Use Difolatan first time spray, at rate of 2-3 pints per acre in as much water as possible. The more water the better the coverage. Since the plant will be small the lower rate may be okay. Remember, Difolatan left over could be used on peanuts. It does not build up spider mites badly.
2. Second treatment - use Bravo 6F or 75W. For 75W material, use 2lbs; for 6F material use 2 pints.
3. For third treatment, use Maneb plus Zu, 80 W (or similar material). Many fields in the area showed manganese deficiency in 1977. Maneb contains manganese.

Miss Goodwin Earns Degree From Wesleyan

ROCKY MOUNT — Carleen Paige Goodwin of Tyner was awarded a Bachelor of Science degree in physical education from North Carolina Wesleyan College during graduation ceremonies held on the front lawn of Wesleyan College campus, Sunday, May 21. Providence Notes

Peace does not dwell in our outward things, but within the soul. We may preserve it in the midst of the bitterest pain; if our will remains from and submissive. Peace in this life springs from acquaintance not in an exemption from suffering.

You are invited to worship with us this Sunday when we come together in peace and harmony and in adoration to our risen Savior.

Pastor Fenner has chosen for his subject "Following a Far-Off"; St. Luke 22:54. Church School began at 9:30 A.M. with the Sunday School Superintendent in charge.

Supported solely through tuition fees, summer school will offer academic instruction to enrolling elementary students (1-16) on a remedial as well as an enrichment level in the areas of math and reading. These classes will be held at D.F. Walker and taught in two hour blocks from 8 A.M. - 10 A.M. and 10:15 A.M. - 12:15 P.M. Depending upon their needs, students may enroll in a math or a reading course, or both by paying a separate tuition fee for each course.

Summer School for elementary students will operate from June 15-July 28, with July 3 and 4 as holidays. Application forms previously sent to parents of potential 1-6 students should be compiled and returned with enrollment fees by June 2. Anyone interested in further information should contact Pressley at the school's administrative office.

At the secondary level (grades 7-12) individualized remedial instruction or make-up courses for students who have failed a required math or English course will be offered in a
