Dr. Jenkins Is Elected

GREENSBORO — Dr. Jimmy R. Jenkins, vice chancellor for academic affairs at Elizabeth City State University, has been elected to a three-year term on the N.C. Humanities Committee, beginning July 1.

The appointment was announced this week by R. Oakley Winters executive director.

The Humanities Committee encourages and supports programs drawing upon the humanities — history, literature, philosophy, comparative religions and other areas — to examine and illuminate problems and dimensions of life and culture.

Utilizing federal monies made available by the National Endowment for the Humanities and gifts from private sources in North Carolina, the Committee makes grants to non-profit organizations for public education programs in the humanities.

A native of Selma, Dr. Jenkins became vice-chancellor at ECSU in 1977. Prior to that time he was a professor of biology. He is a graduate of ECSU and received a Ph. D. in science education from Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind. He is a member of the N.C. Health Manpower Development Council. His research and development efforts on behalf of audiotutorial, individualized instruction have received attention throughout the southeastern United States.

Dr. Jenkins, resides with his wife, and three children on Parkview Drive in Elizabeth City.
