

Couple Present Song Program

Ed and Ruth Bohlen Hussman are coming to First Assembly of God - U.S. 17 business South (Queen Street Extended) November 23, 1980.

In a program that will appeal to all ages, Ruth and Ed sing songs of sacred traditional and contemporary interest. Some of their much loved favorites are Born Again, Follow Me, I Find No Fault In Him, The Lord's Prayer with Ed narrating, and many others which they sing in solo and duet. Ruth often accompanies their singing with the auto-harp, and she is also a gifted whistler and occasionally harmonizes with Ed's singing with her whistling.

Ruth is a contralto with mezzo-soprano qualities. She has recorded three albums on the Supreme-Cornerstone label with Paul Mickelson as producer-director-accompanist. More recently they recorded a fourth and fifth album together.

Ed's deep resonant bass voice and Ruth's unusual contralto have brought encouragement to many as they sing and speak a deep sharing of the Word of God and their own personal experiences.

The public is warmly invited to attend this inspiring ministry.

Death Claims Mrs. Ziegler

Graveside services were held Friday morning for Mrs. Fannie Keeter Ziegler, 80, 108 North Broad Street. The 11 o'clock services were held in Beaver Hill Cemetery with Rev. Raymond Storie officiating.

Mrs. Ziegler died November 12 in Chowan Hospital following an extended illness. She was a retired funeral director.

A native of Bertie County, she was born September 6, 1900, the daughter of the late John Thomas and Annie Hughes Keeter. She was the widow of Haywood S. Ziegler.

Mrs. Ziegler was the first licensed female embalmer in North Carolina. She and her husband owned and operated the Ziegler Funeral Home until it was closed a number of years ago.

Mrs. Ziegler was a member of St. Paul's Episcopal Church.

GAP Workshops To Aid Employers Of Disabled

Are you a Chowan County employer who would like to learn how to tape the talents of disabled persons? A special workshop has been designed especially for you.

Known as Project GAP (Governor's Awareness Program), the one-day workshops were initiated last fall by the Governor's Advocacy Council for Persons with Disabilities in the N. C. Department of Administration and were recently funded for a second year.

Workshops are designed to assist participants, limited to 25 managers and supervisors from within the sponsoring organization, in effectively interacting with disabled people and in understanding federal regulations regarding disabled people.

More than 80 workshops have been conducted throughout the state during the last year. Among employers taking advantage of the workshops have been businesses, industries, educational institutions and governmental agencies.

To arrange a workshop or for more information about Project GAP, contact Carolyn Davis, project director, Project GAP, Governor's Advocacy Council for Persons with Disabilities, 112 W. Lane Street, Raleigh, N.C. 27611, or telephone 919-733-3111.
