To Participate In Program

In July Edenton-Chowan School was randomly selected as one of 24 systems in the state to serve as a pilot system for testing an evaluation instrument for professional school employees. The development of an evaluation instrument resulted from a mandate of the 1980 General Assembly requesting uniform standards and criteria for all professional school personnel.

Only the instrument developed to appraise the performance of principals and teachers is being field tested during the 1981-82 school year. "The personnel evaluation system will be mandated in all school units next year," Supt. John Dunn said, "and for all job classifications within a school system."

Principals and selected personnel from Edenton, along with those in Beaufort and Washington counties, are attending a four-day training workshop at the Northeast Regional Education Center in Williamston, September 14-17. Conducted by staff members of the State Department of Public Instruction, the workshop will offer intense training to school personnel in Observation Skills, Conference Skills and Performance Appraisal Techniques needed to complete the personnel evaluation instrument.

According to Supt. John Dunn, "this will be an involved process." However, the superintendent feels that the state is fortunate to have Edenton-Chowan as participants because of its background and experience. "Our system has been a leader in personnel evaluations for the past six years," Dr. Dunn said, "so the evaluation process should not be that much different, but only more in-depth and involved."

Last year teachers at White Oak School were involved in the appraisal which went into the making of the evaluation instrument being field-tested this year.

Dr. Dunn emphasized that personnel evaluation is not an attempt to "catch somebody off base", but is a genuine and sincere effort to improve educational opportunities for children. "The purpose of our participation this year," he continued, "is to provide leadership for the state in the development of a uniform personnel evaluation system that will help to produce quality education in our entire State."

Church Of God Homecoming

Homecoming will be observed Sunday at the Church of God, 906 Johnston Street.

Classes for all ages will assemble at 10 A.M. The "Singing Laymen" of Windsor, will be singing from 10:30 until 11 A.M.

Rev. Jonah Perry of Hopewell, Va. will be the morning worship speaker. Mr. Perry organized the local church some 33 years ago.

Tables will be set up on the church parking lot where lunch will be served at 1 P.M. District and local churches will be coming together for the luncheon and for a singspiration to begin at 2 P.M.

The pastor, Rev. Marvin Baccus, extends a special invitation to the public to be a part of this homecoming.

Area Survey Planned

The Edenton Baptist Church will survey the Cape Colony area during the afternoons of September 26 and 27. This survey is designed to discover ministry needs in the area.

The members of the church want the residents of Cape Colony to know that they will be in the area on the above dates and what their purpose will be. Your cooperation is appreciated.
