

Governor To Host Reception

Gov. and Mrs. James B. Hunt, Jr. will host a reception and ceremony, November 4, to pay tribute to the people they have hailed as America's greatest resource—volunteers. In the ceremony at the Royal Villa in Raleigh, they will present awards in nine categories to outstanding volunteers in the 33 eastern counties participating.

The categories are Individual Human Service Volunteer, Individual Community Volunteer Leader, Youth Volunteer, Senior Citizen Volunteer, Disabled Person Volunteer, Administrator-Coordinator of Volunteers, Church-Religious Volunteer Group, Community Volunteer Organization and Business-Industry Volunteer Involvement. Among those to be recognized are: Dorothy Wagner, Route 1, Edenton; Elizabeth Twiddy Kelly, Route 2, Edenton; Beverly Walker, 79 Davis Place, Edenton; Mrs. Novella P. Wilson, 416 N. Oakum Street, Edenton; and Chowan-Edenton Optimist Club.

"Every year thousands of volunteers in communities across North Carolina contribute millions of hours of time to worthwhile causes. They feed the hungry, care for the sick, raise thousands of dollars for hundreds of organizations, tutor in our schools, and perform hundreds of other tasks because they care," said Gov. Hunt.

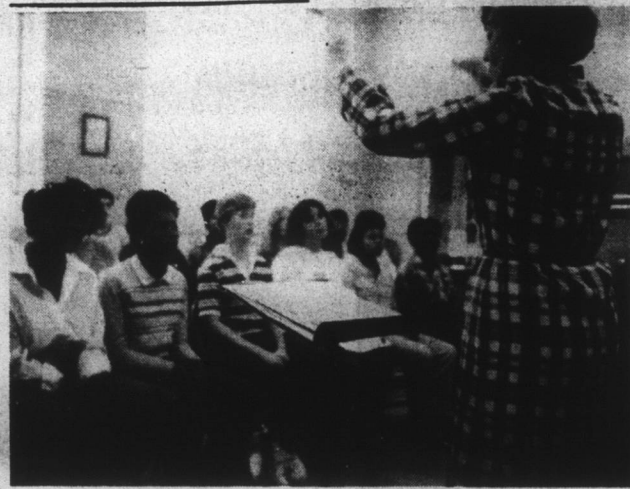

"In a very real sense, they are modern pioneers venturing into an unknown world of slashed budgets and curtailed federal programs. They have not given up the work of compassion and look to the future with the hope of solving many of the problems of their communities.

"It is fitting, therefore, that we gather on this occasion to pay tribute to America's greatest resource."

There will be a reception at 7 P.M., and the ceremony will follow at 7:30 P.M. Both are open to the public.

Officials involved in the ceremony will be Charles V. Petty, executive director, Governor's Office of Citizen Affairs; Thad Eure, Secretary of State; Isaac Battle, chairman of the Gates County Involvement Council, and Mrs. Ruth Cherry, Edgecombe County commissioner.

Fall Concert

The John A. Holmes High School Cultural Arts Department will present its Fall Choral Concert on November 5 at 8 o'clock in the school auditorium. There will be three choral groups performing: Treble Ensemble, Mixed Chorus II, and Concert Choir.

There will be an art display from the art students of Mrs. Birkhead. The exhibit will be the lobby of the auditorium.

The Holmes Drama Club will present a short scene from their upcoming production of "The Mousetrap" by Agatha Christie. Performance dates for the play are November 19, 20, 21 at 8 P. M.

Please take this opportunity to come out and support your area cultural arts. Admission for the evening is $1 for adults and 50 cents for children and students.

INSIGHT INTO EYESIGHT

DR. A.F. DOWNUM, JR. OPTOMETRIST

Eye Injuries

Eye injuries can happen to anyone. Thousands of people are injured every year through freak accidents, carelessness, or from exposures to hazards on the job.

If you wear glasses, good quality impact-resistant lenses will give you as much protection as possible. Your glasses should be checked often to make sure the lenses fit firmly in the frame and have not been scratched. Loose-fitting or damaged glasses increase the danger of eye injuries.

Anyone exposed to unusual hazards in his work should wear safety goggles or some other kind of protective eye shield. The danger may not be just from flying metal objects or chemical splashes. It can come from gases, vapors, and fumes, and just plain ordinary dust, if there's too much of it.

If you need safety eyewear it should be of the highest industrial quality to protect you from accidents. You and your eyes deserve the best possible protection. Your optometrist can help you get it.
