

Rev. Ashley Is Honored

During homecoming last Friday in Elizabeth Baptist Church in Sampson County, Rev. G. N. Ashley was honored. He was recognized for 37 years of service to church and for 55 years as a Baptist minister. Mr. Ashley, who lives in the Austryville area and serves as pastor of the Long Branch Baptist Church, preached the homecoming sermon at Elizabeth Baptist, according to the pastor, Rev. Lamar Eiland.

This was the first time the former minister had returned to preach at Elizabeth since he left after his long service there.

He has served several other churches in Sampson County, including churches in Roseboro and in Salemburg. He is now serving as pastor of the Long Branch Baptist Church.

Sunday's recognition ceremony noted that Mr. Ashley was ordained to the ministry 55 years ago in October, 1926, in the Rocky Hock Baptist Church in Chowan County.

For And About Women

NEWS OF WOMEN

Work Force Continues To Grow

The number of women in this country who work outside the home continues to rise and there is every indication the trend is not likely to change. Women are working for personal fulfillment, for self-satisfaction and to help support their families.

These facts are among many in the findings of a survey entitled Families at Work: Strengths and Strains and presented by General Mills as its American Family Report 1980-81. The research was done by Louis Harris and Associates, Inc., New York.

The study also pinpoints one indisputable fact: women feel special pressures when working outside the home, regardless of marriage and child-rearing responsibilities. Their right to do so is supported by their emotions—said that if economic factors were not involved, children, and indeed, the public in general.

The other side of the picture reveals that working mothers bear particular American Family Reports burdens and pressures, examining attitudes on which have an impact in issues affecting family life. Opinions of both adults and teenagers were assessed as well as those of business and labor leaders, family traditionalists and feminists.

Woman on the job... a picture that's not likely to change.

A high percentage of women feel special pressures in balancing demands of work and family. Women citing this problem— including many in managerial and executive positions—said that if economic factors were not involved, they would prefer part-time to full-time work.

The report is the fourth in a series of General Mills American Family Reports examining attitudes on issues affecting family life. Opinions of both adults and teenagers were assessed as well as those of business and labor leaders, family traditionalists and feminists.

Community College Exhibit Wins Honors At State Fair

RALEIGH — The 58 campus community college system walked off with top honors October 21, at the 1981 N. C. State Fair.

The community college exhibit, which offered fairgoers hands-on displays of job training opportunities and a chance to talk one-on-one with faculty and staff in the system, won the Governor's Award for Best Educational Exhibit at the State Fair.

The award was accepted on behalf of the system by Dr. Larry J. Blake, state president of the Department of Community Colleges, in award ceremonies held Oct. 21 at the exhibit. In making the presentation Agriculture Commissioner Jim Graham called the exhibit tremendous and said it exemplified what is good about the State Fair. "We are very pleased to make this award to the community college system," Graham said. "Lots of work went into the displays and I've seen a lot of people go through the exhibit."

The free exhibit was located in the large geodetic dome next to Dorton Arena. The dome was donated by the State Fair organizers to the community college system in recognition of "1981, Year of the Community College System in North Carolina.

The design of the dome interior was the work of Anita Prysby, a student at Randolph Technical College in Asheboro. Prysby won a system-wide contest for designing the exhibit space. The winning theme, "Your Part of Something Great," was submitted by Lenoir Community College in Kinston.

Displays in the exhibit depicted a number of programs in the system. The new and expanding industry display features a tractor-trailer cab made entirely in North Carolina. The super, deluxe edition cab sleeps two and carries its own television set. Other displays highlight the system's nationally recognized energy technology program and its programs in adult literacy, the construction trades, health occupations and job opportunities in the up-and-coming field of electronics.

More than 135,000 persons toured the exhibit during the nine days of the fair.

Emergency Measures

Restorations (fillings, caps, bridges, etc.) have a way of breaking or getting lost at the most inconvenient time - like when you want to look your best. The only permanent kind of repair is that made by your dentist, but here are a few emergency measures.

If a filling falls out (and it happens in the best of families) it has to be replaced by the dentist. You can ease some of the discomfort by rinsing with luke-warm water and then placing a piece of cotton dipped in oil of cloves into the cavity.

If a crown, jacket or cap pops out, don't put it back with commercial glue. If you can leave it out until you see your dentist - do so. If you must have it in place for appearance's sake, vaseline or denture cream will hold it in place temporarily.

Don't try to repair a broken denture or bridge yourself. If could damage both the appliance and the tissue against which it rests. A broken denture is a real emergency and can be repaired quickly by the dentist. A single fractured tooth in a denture can also be replaced quickly by the dentist.

SAMPLE BALLOT AND INSTRUCTIONS FOR VOTING

CANDIDATES FOR MUNICIPAL OFFICES OF THE TOWN OF EDENTON AT THE MUNICIPAL ELECTION NOVEMBER 3, 1981

INSTRUCTIONS TO VOTERS

1. Move the Red Operating Lever to the Right Until Bell Rings.
2. Turn down a Voting Pointer over the name of each candidate you wish to vote for. LEAVE THE POINTERS DOWN.
3. To vote in favor of the question, turn down a voting pointer over the word YES. To vote in opposition to the question, turn down a voting pointer over the word NO. LEAVE THE POINTER DOWN.
4. Move the Red Operating Lever to the left.

VOTER ABOUT TO CLOSE CURTAIN

Each candidate's voting pointer is located just above his name; a voting pointer must be turned down over the name of each candidate for whom you wish to vote, AND LEFT DOWN.

The machine is so arranged that you cannot turn down more than the proper number of voting pointers for each office. You cannot spoil your ballot by voting for too many candidates.

In an office to which more than one candidate is to be voted for, you can turn down the proper number of voting pointers, or less but no more.

No votes are registered until the Red operating lever is moved to open the curtain. You can make as many changes as you desire while the operating lever is at the right side.

No one will know how you have voted, because the movement of the Red operating lever returns the voted voting pointers to their unvoted position before the curtain begins to open.
