First Ladies' Lives Studied

It's not difficult to find out about the governors who have lived in North Carolina's gracious Executive Mansion in downtown Raleigh. Look in a history book or the biography section of the library or old clippings, and you'll find records of victories and defeats, likes and dislikes.

But where do you find out about the women who have shared the mansion with them?

Thanks to a special project sponsored by the Executive Mansion Fine Arts Committee in conjunction with the Bicentennial Foundation and the Mary Duke Biddle Foundation, you can now look them up in a handsome publication, "The First Ladies of North Carolina."

Co-authored by former First Lady Jeanette C. Moore and Shelby journalist Grace Hamrick, the 86-page hard-bound volume is the first book devoted to the lives of North Carolina's First Ladies.

A limited number of copies of the first edition are available for $12 plus $1.50 postage and handling from the N. C. Department of Cultural Resources in Raleigh. All revenues go to the Executive Fine Arts Committee, an organization set up by Mrs. Moore in 1965 to help furnish and maintain

Historic Homes Tour Is Set

There will be a tour of historic homes in Tarboro, December 13 from 2 P.M. until 7 P.M. Five homes will be open ranging in style from the federal-style home of Rep. and Mrs. Joe Mauretic to the Second Empire styled Redmond-Shackleford House and the high Victorian Italianate Phippen-Marrow House.

The tour will include a Wassail Bowl at the Dozier-Brown House and a program of 18th and 19th century Christmas music by Lydia Bardin and Robert Weber at Calvary Episcopal church at 7 P.M. The Pender Museum will also be on the tour.

Tickets may be purchased for $6 at the Dozier-Brown House, 112 West Church Street beginning at noon December 13. Reservations for tickets may be made by calling Barbara Boney at 823-5166 (8 to 5) or 823-1082 (home) or by calling the Tarboro Planning Office at 823-8121.

Proceeds will go toward the restoration of the Blount-Bridges House.

IF YOU'RE NOT SHOPPING AT WINN-DIXIE, AREN'T YOU TIRED OF PAYING TOO MUCH FOR YOUR GROCERIES?

Week after week after week, we beat the store that claims to be "LOWEST" in head-to-head price comparisons.
