

GIFTS PRESENTED — Financial gifts benefitting school and community are presented by heads of local clubs and organizations to Sally Blount, center, president of the Chowan County Chapter of The North Carolina Symphony. The financial contributions and commitments of these groups have accounted for more than $2,500 of the $6,000 needed to provide an evening community concert and a "free" educational student concert. Money raised from ticket sales, in addition to a Z. Smith Reynolds community incentive grant, will be needed to fulfill the local chapter's obligation for bringing the N. C. Symphony to Edenton on January 28. Pictured are left to right, representatives and presidents of local groups financially supporting this community-school effort: John Dunn, Supt. of Schools; Linda Keel, Edenton Woman's Club president; Susan Creighton, Garden of Eden Club president; C. B. Smith, Lion's Club president; Kathleen Jethro, Chamber of Commerce secretary; Max Busby, Edenton Rotary Club president and Vendetta Sutton, Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority president.

Symphony Membership: Excellent Gift

The Chowan County Chapter of The North Carolina Symphony has the perfect answer to everyone's Christmas shopping quandries. For that special business friend, boss, secretary, relative or friend on your list, a membership in the North Carolina Symphony will be an enriching and delightful experience, the remembrance of which will last the whole year through.

The North Carolina Symphony Chamber Orchestra, conducted by Jim Ogle, Associate Conductor with the Symphony for the past four years, will be in concert January 28, 1982 at Ernest A. Swain Elementary School auditorium. Memberships purchased now will arrive in plenty of time to enclose in gift cards for Christmas.

A highlight for local citizenry to the Symphony's arrival in Edenton, for the first time in over ten years, is that the popular Edenton Choral Society and the John A. Holmes High School Concert Choir will perform with the nationally acclaimed group.

Adding to the excitement of having professional and local artists perform for the community's pleasure is the Chowan Art Council's intention to have a reception immediately following the evening concert. At this time everyone will have a once in a life time opportunity, perhaps, to meet and socialize informally with the performing musicians, who have graciously accepted the invitation to attend.

Honor Roll

Clara M. Boswell, principal of Edenton-Chowan Alternative School has released the following honor roll for the six weeks ending December 1:

A Honor Roll
Denise Stallings and Dianne Overton.

A-B Honor Roll
Sheryl Hoskins, Amy Pickell, Percy Rountree, Gerald Privott, Jimmy Harris, Jonathan Brickhouse, Lisa Brothers and George Emmons.

Wackelin at 482-2792, Sally Blount at 482-4954 or Mary Rhea Gardner a 482-4436. The North Carolina

Symphony is being sponsored in Edenton by the Chowan County Chapter of the North Carolina Symphony, which was formed this summer through Edenton-Chowan Schools Community Education Program.

School Board Holds Meeting

Beginning the Edenton-Chowan School Board's regular meeting Monday night with "Good Things", a new agenda feature to inform members of positive events in the schools, Holmes High School Principal Rob Boyce introduced Kay Cherry, the system's recently selected Teacher of The Year. In presenting Mrs. Cherry, Boyce described her as an "excellent choice, being a dedicated and hard working teacher truly interested in her students."

Mrs. Cherry, an English instructor at Holmes for the past nine years, displayed her motivating enthusiasm as she enlightened members on her philosophy of Education and shared her comprehensive personal and professional notebook, which will be used when she represents this system in competition during January for Regional Teacher of the Year.

On behalf of the Board, chairman Eugene Jordan recognized Mrs. Cherry's recent honor with an engraved pewter cup from the members. In making his presentation and referring to teachers, Jordan said he was "proud to be awarding this cup to the best of the best, which is just one of the reasons why people in the areas recognize Edenton-Chowan Schools as being above the ordinary school system."

Maxine Brown, new Director of Instruction, brought the Board up to date on the system's proposals and time table for accreditation into the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools. At present Walker, Swain, Chowan and Holmes schools are fully accredited and will undergo a five-year interim study in 1982. White Oak, the Alternative School and the school system as a whole are presently undergoing the self-study process to receive accreditation by 1984. All schools are scheduled to be on the same accreditation self-study schedule by 1986.

Employed recently by the School Board to analyze its policies in relation to risks and to anticipate the best way of increasing the system's insurance coverage at a cheaper price, Kurt Ficklin, consultant with Ficklin Insurance Associates, presented the members with developed plans for bid specifications to meet requirements for the system. All bids will go to local agencies, which will have 45 days to respond before bid contracts for insurance are accepted.

Upon recommendation by the Superintendent and "in light of current interest shown about teacher supplements, the Board approved the informational release of salaries and supplements, above the State allotted amounts, of certified personnel to Gil Burroughs, requesting NCAE president. "The information to be released will be listed by position and amounts not by names", according to Superintendent Dunn. The Board agreed to release the information with the stipulation that "Burroughs will be held responsible for proper use of this information." To protect individual school employees from exploitation and to preserve the privacy of individuals, it is the Board's general policy not to release salary in-
