"Don't give a Sony unless you mean it."

That probably sounds a little strange to you.

After all, we're in the season where everyone is shouting "Buy, buy, buy!" And here I am telling you don't buy.

I've got Sonys in my store, lots of great Sonys. Like Trinitron. Betamax. Walkman. Portable stereo. And more.

But listen, Sony is a very special kind of gift. Giving a Sony to someone says you appreciate them. It says they're special.

So by all-means, come in and see my Sonys. But even more important than deciding what Sonys to buy, is deciding just who you want to buy them for.
