A Look Into The Past

In The Files Of The Chowan Herald 40 YEARS AGO

Horse and mule clinics were held in Chowan County. These clinics were conducted by Dr. L. A. Dees in cooperation with county agent C. W. Overman.

An advisory council for the employment office was installed in Edenton. Those installed were Mayor J. H. McMullan, Mrs. Charles T. Hollowell and J. Edwin Bufflap representing the public; J. W. Davis and Ralph Parrish representing employers, and Henry Rogerson and Gurnie Hobbs, representing employers.

Four Chowan County boys went to Fort Bragg. The quartet included: John Ralph Brabble, James Thomas Brabble, Thomas Jarvis Parks and Willis K. Copeland.

Mrs. C. T. Hollowell was elected president of the Edenton Garden Club.

Board members met to discuss the vexing problems of tire rationing. The board for Chowan County was composed of Albert Byrum, chairman, W. W. Byrum and Dr. W. S. Griffin. The problem was what to do when there was only a certain number of tires available in the county and many more requests than

Jones Raps Budget Cuts

recently deplored justannounced cuts in Coast Guard operations and has secure funding to restore the eliminated services. Those operations targeted for cuts include closure or reduction of air stations, multi-mission stations, recruiting stations, marine safety offices, vessel documentation offices, merchant mariner licensing offices, boating safety programs, as well as the decommissioning of several Coast Guard cutters and aircraft. Ultimately these cuts will result in personnel reductions which will spread throughout the Coast Guard. Up to 3,500 uniformed positions will have to be eliminated. It is expected that these reductions will total approximately $45was authorized $1.35-billion for fiscal year 1982, already $46-million less than requested.

In addition, the Coast Guard must commit $88million of its budget to cover already approved pay increases. This money will

WASHINGTON - Rep. have to be taken from Walter B. Jones, chairman operations, thus forcing of the Merchant Marine and another round of cuts in the Fisheries Committee, near future unless extra funding is appropriated.

Stated Jones, "I am amazed that unknown introduced legislation to persons within the Administration have forced on the Coast Guard and the Department of Transportation these ill-advised cuts. These reductions will definitely diminish safety of life and property at sea, and obstruct the enforcement of laws dealing with drug smuggling, illegal immigration, and fishing violations by foreign nations. The Coast Guard's main missions are oriented towards defense, safety, and law enforcement. You would think that this present Adminstration would be receptive to increased funding, but sadly that appears not to be the case. The bill I have introduced will provide enough money million. The Coast Guard to fund Coast Guard operations at current levels, thereby avoiding these cuts.

The Plymouth Wood diac life support in con-Products Merchandiser, built in 1965 as the first such operation in Weyerhaeuser Co., broke every production record in the book in 1981. The merchandiser is designed to inspect, trim and sort every incoming log and send it to its highest end-use value, whether it be for plywood, lumber or pulp wood chips, based on the quality of the log.

The merchandiser primarily provides all raw material for the Plymouth Plant and the Chip-N-Saw mill. Thirty production and maintenance employees, divided into two shifts, broke the all-time records.

The merchandiser had the lowest percentage of maintenance downttime on record in 1981, and processed more than 1.045,000 logs averaging 5.77 logs per operating minute, new all-time high performance records The crews accomplished the feats safely with no-timeloss injuries throughout the entire year...a job well done. -0-
