Stamps And Stories

The United States Postal Service has issued three new philatelic items, available now at Edenton Post Office, according to Postmaster James M. Bond.

The three items are: a 50-stamp pane featuring the bird and flower of each of the 50 United States; the new commemorative Mint Set; and the latest edition of Stamps and Stories.

The birds and flowers stamps were designed by father-and-son artists Arthur and Alan Singer. "This is the first time a stamp series has been designed by a father-and-son team," Postmaster Bond said. A pane of the new stamps includes each of the 50 states, arranged in alphabetical order from the top left corner to the lower right hand corner. Individually, each stamp is a masterpiece in miniature. With the sale of each pane, the Postal Service will provide a free mini-album (while supplies last).

The 1981 Commemorative and Special Stamps Mint Set features a colorful folder and 41 individual mint stamps. Every commemorative stamp issued in 1981 has been included with a brief descriptive story. There are 15 single stamps, four blocks of four, the space achievement block of eight stamps, as well as both the 18-cent and 20-cent James Hoban issues. There are two insert pages included for the display and protection of the 41 stamps.

Stamps and Stories, an inexpensive and useful guide for stamp collectors, contains listings, current values and illustrations of U.S. philatelic items issued over the years. "Anyone who reads this book will quickly understand why stamp collecting, the world's most popular hobby, is a hobby of a lifetime," Postmaster Bond said.

"I think the new birds and flowers issue will be especially popular," Postmaster Bond said. "I believe residents of the different states will find it exciting to see their state symbols proudly displayed on the mail. Our own state bird, the cardinal, and flower, the flowering dogwood, are certainly prominent additions to this new issue of stamps."

Boyce Is Promoted

Travis E. Boyce, son of Emerson and Telma Boyce of Edenton, N.C., has been promoted in the U.S. Army to the rank of specialist four.

Boyce is a Pershing missile crew member in Neckarsulm, West Germany, with the 3rd Battalion, 84th Field Artillery. He is a 1978 graduate of John A. Holmes High School, Edenton.

Honored At Banquet

MURFREESBORO - Student athletes who participated in the winter sports activities at Chowan were recently honored at a banquet given in the President's Room of Chowan's Thomas Cafeteria. Athletic Director Jim Garrison presided over the banquet and recognized members of the coaching staff who presented letters and special awards to their respective team members.

The principal speaker for the evening was Dick Tarrant, Head Basketball Coach of the University of Richmond. Coach Tarrant was the master-mind of an outstanding 1981-82 Spider team, which posted an 18-10 record and one of the best seasons for a Spider team in the past several years.

Women's Coach Gay Scott presented monogram letters and special awards to the members of her team. The Lady Braves finished the season 14-5 overall and 5-4 in East Division play.

Special awards given included: Most Valuable Offensive Player - Denise Jordan, a sophomore forward from Tyner, N.C., a two-year starter who averaged 12.1 points per game this season.
