Rally For The ERA Held In Raleigh

RALEIGH—Thousands of North Carolinians, representing counties across the state, will converge here for a rally in support of the Equal Rights Amendment on Sunday.

The North Carolina Rally for ERA is sponsored by Gov. James B. Hunt Jr., North Carolinians United for ERA (NCUERA) and the ERA Countdown Campaign to demonstrate public support for the ERA and urge its passage in North Carolina.

Supporters will assemble at 1 P.M. at the corner of Wilmington and Lane streets and march past the legislature to the Capitol Building. Following the tradition of the historic suffrage marches, participants are urged to wear white and walk in processional style carrying organizational banners.

A rally at the Capitol will feature North Carolina leaders for ERA. Including Gov. Hunt, and possibly national celebrities.

The rally comes at a time of increasing support for the ERA in North Carolina. According to a recent Harris Poll, 61 per cent of all North Carolinians favor the Equal Rights Amendment, with only 30 per cent opposed. Gov. Hunt has characterized the change of climate as one of the most dramatic to take place during his life in public service.

Among state organizations participating in the North Carolina Rally for ERA are: Church Women United, League of Women Voters, National Organization For Women, N. C. Association of Educators, American Association of University Women, Women's Political Caucus, Business and Professional Women and the YWCA. Local chapters of these and other organizations are arranging publicity and transportation for the rally in their communities from many cities throughout the state.

Thirty-five states have already passed the Equal Rights Amendment. Three more are needed to ratify the Amendment before its deadline on June 30. To dramatize ERA support and urge ratification, marches are also being organized for June 6 in Florida, Oklahoma and Illinois. Marchers will call upon the conscience of legislators in these key states where campaigns have been underway for many months.

The Equal Rights Amendment states, "Equality of rights under the law shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any state on account of sex."

Eyes In Error: Astigmatism

If you have a vision problem, you have lots of company. An estimated one out of every two people in the U.S. also have eye problems. One of the more common is astigmatism.

This is caused by an imperfectly shaped cornea. This is the window of the eye through which light passes to the lens, where the image is focused. If the cornea is out of shape, the image will be blurred. Instead of rays of light coming together at one point, they come together at two points, creating two separate images instead of one.

The kind of astigmatism you have depends on where the points of focus are. It can be nearsighted or farsighted astigmatism. Or it can be a combination of both.

If you've noticed a blurring of vision when looking at objects close up or far away, you may have an astigmatism. Corrective eyeglasses or contact lenses can take the blur away and make your vision clear again. All it takes is an examination by your optometrist to find out how.

Changing Your Facial Contour

Although the human body continues to change throughout life, changes in the adult occur much more slowly than in the child and are called "maturing features". In most people, the middle, autumn and later years of life are characterized by a thinning and sharpening of the facial contours. During these years, the support provided by intact teeth is critically important in maintaining a symmetrical and pleasing facial appearance.

The teeth, especially the front teeth (incisors) and the eye teeth (canines), provide direct support to the shape of the lips, corner of the mouth, and front part of the cheeks. If these teeth are not replaced immediately, their loss can cause or accentuate folding, drooping and hollowing of the facial tissues resulting in facial features that can be unattractive and downright unpleasant.

In the older person, loss of the bicuspids and molars (back teeth) accentuates the hollow configuration of the cheeks and deepens the natural lines and wrinkles. You only have one face. Don't let negligence keep it from looking as young as you are for life. Replace any missing teeth now!
