Ad Soliciting Causes Confusion

ROCKY MOUNT — Business and professional firms in Eastern North Carolina may be confusing listing in a private national "classified directory" with Yellow Page advertising in their local telephone directories.

B.C. Dixon, Carolina Telephone and Telegraph Company directory manager, said the solicitation by National Directory Publishers of Niagara Falls, N.Y., has no connection with Carolina Telephone.

"I have received inquiries from a number of business people in Carolina Telephone's service area who thought they were buying space in our company's telephone directory. The printed material they are receiving by mail has an illustration that resembles a telephone directory Yellow Pages with the words, 'Directory Advertising Gets Results,'" Dixon said.

"In view of National Directory Service's approach, we at Carolina Telephone are concerned that our customers could be misled or could misinterpret their literature. Carolina Telephone is in no way related to National Directory Service of Niagara Falls, N.Y., and any space purchased from them will appear in their publication and not in the familiar Yellow Pages of our telephone book.

"We thank our customers for helping us make the Carolina Telephone Yellow Pages one of the best advertising buys in America year after year."

Farm Computers

Continued From Page 3-B session will consist of an introduction of the many farm operations that can be programmed to give accurate, reliable information needed to help today's agribusiness people make more profitable decisions from planting, to harvest, to market.

The second meeting will give those attending an opportunity to become familiar with computer hardware. The college's TRS-80 computers will be used in the hands-on session.

The registration fee for the Continuing Education workshop will be $8. More detailed information may be obtained by calling Clayton Morrisette at the college, 335-0821, Extension 233, or Williams at 336-2259.
