

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

Just a short note to express our good fortune in meeting you two weeks ago Tuesday. We certainly profited from your summary of events in Edenton since '45. We did find the old house that we lived in on Eden Street and took several photos of it. It sure changed into an attractive little home compared with the old photo we have of it in 1945.

The short time we spent in Edenton involved a visit to the old cemetery and church on Broad Street; some time on the waterfront at the "Barker" museum; lunch at the Boswell restaurant and just plain cruising around reading historical marker signs and looking at residences. My wife (Caroline) just could not get herself oriented with the courthouse area. The missing monument and the two side streets made it much less expansive than she remembered it in '45. She and (Laurie) 2 years old at the time, spent some time there playing.

Couldn't wait to get back here and tell a few people about the transformation that occurred in Edenton since '45 (for the better). Urban renewal in this area has been catastrophic. My message has been: go to Edenton and see how it should be done. We really didn't know what to expect when we started out from Greenville but it was a delight.

Our only regret is running short of time and not visiting Mrs. Willafore (spelling is probably wrong). We had promised our daughter Nancy to return to Greenville by 6 P.M. She had to resume teaching the next day and had a few things to do. We never thanked the Willafores properly for being such gracious hosts to the wife's folks when they came to Edenton to transport my daughter and wife back to Wisconsin. My destination was Williamsburg and eventual discharge from service.

In closing I would like to repeat my gratitude for your appearance at the door that Tuesday noon and giving us an excellent run down of past years in Edenton. Only wish now that we had planned to stay longer.

Sincerely
Lawrence Urbschiet
You can tell Mrs. Willafore that the little blond two year old (that picked her flowers) is a resident of Calif. and teaches at Solano Jr. College in Vallejo, Calif. Has lived in the Frisco Bay area since 1965.

Do not refrigerate eggplant, rutabagas, hard-rind squashes and sweetpotatoes. They should be stored at 60 degrees. If these vegetables must be kept at room temperature, use them within a week.

Peoples Bank And Trust Reports

ROCKY MOUNT—At a special meeting held November 17, the shareholders of Peoples Bank and Trust Company approved the formation of a one bank holding company named Peoples Bancorp (N.C.), Inc. Under the approved plan of reorganization, Peoples Bank and Trust Company will operate as a wholly-owned subsidiary of Peoples Bancorp Incorporated.

"There are two primary reasons for reorganizing the Bank into a holding company," commented William H. Stanley, chairman and chief executive officer. "A bank holding company may engage in non-banking business activities that are closely related to banking, and thus affords the bank greater flexibility in satisfying the changing needs of customers."

Prior to being approved by the bank's shareholders, the proposed Plan of Reorganization was subject to approval of the Commissioner of Banks, the North Carolina State Banking Commission, the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. "The formation of a holding company is an involved process," commented Mr. Stanley, "but we felt it was a necessary step to take in order for the Bank to meet the challenges of the eighties." "We are seeing the incursion of non-traditional institutions into the financial marketplace and this action squarely positions Peoples Bank in a posture to compete effectively while allowing us to continue offering convenient service."

Peoples Bank has 50 offices serving 28 communities in Eastern North Carolina.

Green Hill Art Gallery Presents "Winter Show"

Green Hill Art Gallery's third annual "Winter Show" will open on Sunday, December 5 with more than 500 works of art by 90 North Carolina artists and craftspeople. Art works for the invitational exhibition will include paintings, drawings, small sculpture, prints, glass, ceramics, jewelry, photography, weavings, woodworking and mixed media.

All works will be for sale and prices will start at $10.00, affording the Holiday Shopper an opportunity to purchase high-quality works of art by many of North Carolina's finest artists and craftspeople. Artists in this year's "Winter Show" include: Bryant Holsenbeck (Carrboro)-basketry; Kathleen Gibbs (Charlotte)-ceramics; Hiroshi Sueyoshi (Wilmington)-ceramics; Gilbert Johnson (Burnsville)-glass; Edward Reep (Greenville)-painting; Sam Pratt (Durham)-woodworking; Barbara Grenell (Burnsville)-tapestry; and MacDonald Bane (Winston-Salem)-painting.

A reception for the artists and the public will be held on Sunday, December 5, from 3 - 5 P.M.

Green Hill is a non-profit art gallery and educational facility featuring the contemporary visual arts of North Carolina.

Washington County Christmas Parade

The Washington County Chamber of Commerce will sponsor the Annual Christmas Parade for 1982 on December 1 at 5:30 P.M. in Plymouth. Grand Marshals for this parade will be the movie characters, "Annie" and "E.T." There are more than 60 units, counting the 82nd Airborne Band from Fort Bragg.

The Problems Caused By Drunk Drivers

CHARLOTTE—Several hundred civic leaders participated in 10 regional conferences on the problem of drinking drivers. Participants in most conferences criticized court treatment of alcohol-related traffic offenses.

The N.C. Insurance News Service (N.C.I.N.S.) sponsored the meetings held simultaneously in 10 cities November 6. A member of the Governor's Task Force on Drunken Drivers spoke at each of the meetings. Other speakers included mayors, law enforcement people, members of Mothers Against Drunk Driving (MADD), and other groups.

Henry C. Allen, Jr., president of Integon Corporation's property and casualty insurance companies, is chairman of the N.C.I.N.S. Anti-DUI campaign. Thomas S. Carpenter, general manager of the Aetna Life & Casualty commercial division, is president of N.C.I.N.S., an information service of 41 insurance companies operating in North Carolina.

In the discussion sessions, participants made suggestions for increasing the legal age for drinking, requirement of mandatory uniform sentencing of convicted offenders, elimination of plea bargaining and many other actions. Task Force members responded to questions about which items are being recommended to the governor and which have been considered and not included in the recommendation.

At some of the meetings participants stressed that more emphasis is needed on public awareness and prevention because the percentage of apprehension is small. The total number of arrests is large — more than 96,000 in North Carolina in 1981. At several meetings it was suggested that the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) be urged to ban beer and wine advertising from being shown on television. In other meetings it was suggested that if the advertising could not be banned from broadcasts that the networks and stations be required to carry counter-advertising in the form of public service announcements broadcast during the same programming that carries the beer and wine advertising.

The meetings attracted legislators, city and county government officials, civic club presidents, religious leaders, doctors, attorneys, school system representatives, Parent-Teacher Association leaders, representatives of minority organizations, judges and business leaders.

The suggestions made in all 10 cities will be put into summary form and provided to Gov. James B. Hunt, Jr., other appropriate members of the executive branch, the Lieutenant Governor, and the speaker of the House, other appropriate legislative leaders, and appropriate members of the judicial branch.

COA News

Applications are being accepted for enrollment in the second cycle of the Bridges Program at College of The Albemarle. The cycle will begin on January 17, 1983.

The program is conducted for economically disadvantaged adults who have not completed their high school requirements. Teresa K. Hyatt, Bridges director, explained that it serves as a "bridge" for individuals to prepare for their General Educational Development (GED) tests for high school equivalency.

Participants receive academic advice and career, personal, and social counseling. The services help motivate students who complete their training to continue their educations by
