will be used to develop and manage the 415-acre Skinner Marsh Project and the 67-acre Glen Marsh in Ontario, Canada. Both projects will provide ample breeding room for many of the ducks and geese that migrate across Ohio skies each spring and fall.
"We are extremely pleased," said Dale Whitesell, DU's executive vice president, "that John has honored Ducks Unlimited with this generous gift. Were others to follow John Ruthven's lead, our job of providing suitable wetland habitat for North America's waterfowl would be a lot easier."

Special Olympics

Delaring January 2-8, "Special Olympics Awareness Week," Governor James B. Hunt joined with more than 1,000 major grocery and drug stores, and Procter & Gamble, Inc. to conduct one of the largest fund-raising drives in the history of North Carolina Special Olympics.

During the last week of December and the first week of January, 60 per cent of all U.S. households will receive a package of cents-off coupons through a Publishers Clearing House mailing. The package, featuring 16 Procter & Gamble products, also contains a message urging public support for Special Olympics.

For each coupon redeemed, Procter & Gamble will donate 5 cents, up to $500,000 nationally, to Special Olympics. If an individual makes a check on the Special Olympic logo found on the coupon, P&G will donate 10 cents up to $250,000 nationally, to Special Olympics. Half the funds collected in North Carolina will benefit Special Olympics nationally.

Kicking off "Special Olympics Awareness Week" was the NBC movie "The Kid From Nowhere" which was aired at 8 P.M. on Monday, January 3. N.C. Special Olympics conducted a minitelethon during the movie and interested viewers called a special toll-free number to pledge their support of N. C. Special Olympics.

During the fund-raising campaign Special Olympic volunteers have worked closely with P&G representatives to gain support from North Carolina grocery and drug store chains. Many stores have agreed to run special advertisements in newspapers, place the P&G products on sale, and set up Special Olympic displays inside their place of business. The special in-store display help local Special Olympics programs qualify for a nationwide display contest with a chance to earn a $1,000 prize to benefit local Special Olympians.

Among the major chains supporting the projects are: Save Rite, Be Lo, Winn Dixie, Harris Teeter, Watterau, Ingles, Piggly Wiggly, Food World, Food Town, Colonial, J.G. Messick, Community Cash, Lowes, A&P, Byrd's, Family Mart, Save-On, Macks, Roses, Kerr and Eckerd's.

Special Olympics, founded by the Joseph P. Kennedy Foundation, is a year round program of sports training and athletic competition for mentally handicapped adults and children. Persons interested in supporting Special Olympics may call the state office at (919) 787-6714.

Revising The Clean Air Act
Has air quality in the U.S. improved in recent years? The answer is yes. Projections show that it will continue to improve, even with needed economic growth.
The President's Council on Environmental Quality says air quality improved 16 percent in the last five years in 23 cities. These improvements are due to better control of emission sources in industry.

Experts say we can improve air quality by constructing new industrial plants with the best available air pollution controls.
