

"Basketball Shoot-Out For Easter Seals" To Be Held

Jim Valvano, head coach of the N.C. State Wolfpack Basketball Team, will sponsor the Fifth Annual "Basketball Shoot-Out for Easter Seals" all across North Carolina. "Burger King" joins Coach Valvano in sponsoring the event.

Boys and girls, junior high and under, who participate in the Burger King Basketball Shoot-Out obtain sponsors that pledge a given amount of money for each basket scored in a three minute period. The statewide winner of the event will receive air fare, hotel accommodations, and tickets for three people to attend the Washington Bullets vs. Philadelphia 76ers basketball game on March 12, 1983.

Many prizes will be offered on a local and regional basis. The regional prize including three tickets to the N.C.S.U. Wolfpack vs. UNC Wilmington game on February 16, 1983, will be awarded to the top boy or girl fund-raiser in the east. The boy or girl in each grade division (K-4, 5-7, 8-9) scoring the most baskets regionwide will receive a trophy. Trophies, t-shirts, duffle bags, windbreakers, caps, and patches will be presented to the winners of local Shoot-Outs in each grade division.

Any Recreation Departments, P.E. Teachers, Elementary and Junior High Coaches, Boys and Girls are encouraged to get involved in this worthwhile competition. For more information on the 1983 Burger King Basketball Shoot-Out for Easter Seals, contact your Easter Seal Society in Raleigh at (919) 782-6376 or write to Easter Seals, 3825 Barrett Drive, Raleigh, North Carolina 27609.

VA Loan Changes To Help Veterans Buy Homes

The Veterans Administration is changing its Loan Guaranty Regulations to make it easier for veterans to buy retirement homes to participate in local housing programs where there are income restrictions.

Over the past several years, various state and local governments have developed housing programs designed to benefit persons of low and moderate income. Restrictions, such as rights of first refusal or agreements to forfeit excess sale proceeds in the event of sale are imposed to assure that the program benefits accrue only to the targeted beneficiaries. Amending these regulations now allows VA to participate in these programs.

The decision to guarantee loans on homes where there are restrictions on the ages of residents or owners will allow VA loans in retirement developments where the program has been of limited value up to now and will open up new possibilities to World War II veterans who still have loan entitlement.

The amended regulations apply for both conventional homes and mobil homes when the veteran is using the GI Home Loan program. Details about these changes are available at any VA regional office nationwide.

Bond Is Chosen To Honors Program
