

First Place For Columbia High

Columbia High School garnered first place in the local four-county Quiz Bowl '83 competition held February 10, at John A. Holmes High School in Edenton.

Columbia won by defeating reigning champion Creswell High School by 85 to 60 in a deciding third game. Sponsored annually by Pettigrew Regional Library, the local Quiz Bowl match, based loosely on the old GE College Bowl format, determines who will represent local counties at a regional Quiz Bowl competition, where each county may send one team.

The Columbia High School team, made up of Joe Roughton, Susan Suter, Chet Cooper, and Starlyn Combs, positioned itself for the decisive third game by eliminating Holmes High School of Edenton earlier in the competition. In that game, Columbia beat Holmes 85 to 65. Creswell had moved into the championship game by knocking out Perquimans High School in their elimination round by a score of 70 to 60. The Creswell team included Lisa D. Spruill, Jeff Collins, Stuart Woodley, and James Livingston.

In the championship game, Joe Roughton of Columbia led his team to victory by accumulating 35 of the team's 85 points. Stuart Woodley was high scorer for Creswell with 35 points also.

Because each county may send one team to the regional Quiz Bowl contest, none of the four participating teams needed to be eliminated in the local match. Each team now advances to the regional contest to be held on March 5th in Williamston, where teams from ten Eastern Carolina counties will meet to determine who will represent their region in the State Quiz Bowl finals in Raleigh later in March.

By winning the local Quiz Bowl match, Columbia received a cash prize of $70 to be donated to its local high school library for the purchase of materials. Second place Creswell received $40 and Perquimans and Holmes each took home $20.

The Quiz Bowl is sponsored each year by Pettigrew Regional Library to encourage academically-minded students in its service area. In addition to cash prizes, the library awarded free books and Hardee's food coupons to all participants. The library has also decided to initiate a revolving trophy which will be given to the local winner each year to place in its school trophy case for one year. The trophy will pass to the next school who wins the tournament. Each year the winner's name will be engraved to establish a history of local winners. The winner of the first contest in 1982 was Creswell High

Telephone Program "Stay In Touch" To Begin

The Inter-Agency Council on Aging has begun a telephone reassurance program for the county's senior adults. The program, to be called "STAY IN TOUCH", will operate at the program will be called daily Monday-Friday, from 10:00-12:00 in the morning by a Green Thumb Worker.

The telephone reassurance program will serve many purposes. Primarily, the older adults living alone will be given a sense of security. They no longer need fear that they may become ill and unable to obtain help for days. They will also become comforted by the knowledge that someone cares about them.

For senior citizens who wish to be included in the program, they will be asked to fill out a confidential form. Information requested on the form, are name, address, special health conditions, two neighbors to contact in an emergency as well as doctor's name and address.

The Inter-Agency Council

on Aging feels that this program is needed in Perquimans County and with the support of the local agencies, churches and the general public this program should be a success and be a very vital program to the community.

Please note that though the program is designed for the older adults, we won't discriminate. If you know of any person, handicapped or warranting a daily call, if you have any questions or would like more information on the program, please contact us at 426-5404.

Letter To Editor

Dear Sir:

During the twenty-nine years I served in the U.S. Navy I was as "hawkish" as General LeMay. There was no doubt in my mind that the Department of Defense point of view was the only correct position and I had no desire to read, study, or listen to any other view.

During my graduate studies (political science) I became familiar with conflicting opinions but remained sold on the Defense position. It was not until I began teaching at Gardner-Webb College that my attitude regarding the arms race and war itself began changing.

The college statement of purpose reads in part: "To develop quality Christian students who think for themselves..." This, plus Albert Einstein's observation that "The unleashing of the power of the atom has changed everything except how man thinks," finally started my own thought processes.

After studying and considering all arguments on all sides (and I can give these arguments) I reached these conclusions: (a) there are no defensible political boundaries in the nuclear age, (b) conventional war will escalate into a nuclear war, (c) there will be no "limited" nuclear war, (d) war is no longer a viable option for settling disputes, (e) there is nothing so good about the economic system of either the Soviet Union or the United States to justify jeopardizing the entire human race and (f) enough is enough -- or possibly too much.

In summary, when I began thinking for myself, I became a Dove.
