Philatelic Promotion

The fifth annual Spring Philatelic Promotion is taking place through May 14, the U.S. Postal Service announced today.

"Get Carried Away with Philately - Discover Stamp Collecting" is the theme of this year's campaign. It will be promoted with the block of four Ballooning stamps issued March 31, which will serve as the focal point for several materials.

This year's month-long promotion will involve over 19,000 postal facilities nationwide. The principal objective will be to increase the number of young stamp collectors by concentrating on improving public awareness of the hobby and its benefits, such as learning about the people, places and events that have shaped the history of the United States, the Postal Service noted.

"Our research indicates that most of the estimated 2 million collectors in the United States began their hobby between the ages of 8 and 12," said Gordon C. Morison, Assistant Postmaster General for Customer Services.

"Typically, it was an interested adult—brother, sister, parent, neighbor, teacher or scout leader—who initially conveyed the excitement and fun of collecting the U.S. stamps to the young collector," Morison noted.

Postal Service plans for the 1983 Spring Philatelic Promotion include the use of post office lobby displays and the mail distribution of offers for free philatelic publications in 15 major cities. The publications to be distributed to interested hobbyists are the newest edition of Introduction to Stamp Collecting, a 32-page beginners guide to the hobby, and the latest Philatelic Catalog, covering all U.S. stamps and philatelic products available from the U.S. Postal Service via mail order.

In addition, a 1982 Definitive Mint Set will be introduced as part of this promotion. This set, which includes a 16-page album printed in full color, features information and photographs related to all regular stamps and postal stationery items issued by the Postal Service during 1982. It is priced at $7.50.

The 1982 Definitive Mint Set is designed as a companion piece to the 1982 Commemorative Mint Set and the 1982 Fifty State Birds and Flowers Mint Set, which also are available this spring. Together, they represent a complete collection of all 1982 U.S. postal issues.

Also available at most post offices will be an expanded line of other philatelic products, such as Topical Collecting Kits, "The Postal Service Guide to U.S. Stamps and an American Wildlife Stamp Album." They are priced between $2 and $3.50 each.

The Postal Service is sponsoring the month-long observance in cooperation with the Council of Philatelic Organizations, which includes more than 230 national, regional and local organizations devoted to all aspects of stamp collecting.

Related activities will involve such organizations as the National Association of Elementary School Principals, the American Library Association and Benjamin Franklin Stamp Clubs.

In addition, special media kits containing local publicity and public relations ideas on how to promote the hobby of stamp collecting during April will be mailed to over 10,000 postmasters.
