

Holmes Student Council News Is Reported

by Pat Halsey
The faculty at John A. Holmes in conjunction with several students held an open house Sunday, May 15 in the Holmes library. There were displays by various departments and entertainment was provided by Elizabeth Hornthal, Elizabeth Whitson, Linda Twine, Jay Gibson, and Pat Bond.

Students from Mrs. Harriet Small's Advanced Composition classes have had a literary magazine of their works published. The magazine is entitled Spectrum and it contains short stories and poems such as "My Christmas Call" by Denise Lilly, a story that I found to be particularly moving.

Student Council elections were held Monday, May 16, at John A. Holmes. New officers for the upcoming school year were elected. Other members of the student council will be chosen at the beginning of 1983-84 school year.

The Student Council was also involved in orientation for the future freshmen at Holmes on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. Various student council members took the students to the various departments at Holmes such as guidance, vocational education and to the gym where most freshmen will be having the first physical education class at John A. Holmes.

The cheerleaders at John A. Holmes are at it again as they whip future members of the squad into shape for the cheerleading tryouts which are to be held Thursday, May 19. Good luck to all the new trainees.

Letter To The Editor - Clear Rescue Directions

organization by many other squads in the state.

With all of our training, equipment, etc., we are totally helpless unless we can arrive to the place we are needed. Following are some examples of the directions we are sometimes given. They are, of course, fictitious, but however comical or far-fetched they may seem, we often get directions less complete than these: (A) next door to John Doe - Hurry; (B) Cape Colony, first green house; (C) John Doe's uncle's house Gliden Road; (d) third house past the store on Highway 32; (e) Mary Doe's house in Center Hill, you were there last year.

An alarming percentage of the population has never had the opportunity to give directions to their residence while under duress. Our school system holds regular fire drills - why? To teach people how to act "Just in case". Nobody expects to meet an emergency situation head-on, but "Just in case", we all have not only a need, but a serious responsibility to our loved ones to be as prepared as possible.

This means having emergency numbers readily at hand, and being able to give directions clearly and accurately. Rescue Squad number is 482-4222. Know in which direction the emergency units assigned to your area are to be coming from (clear and accurate directions to your home from Unit No. 3 are in all probability totally useless from Unit 1). Learn how to give directions to your home by using outstanding landmarks, as well as a street name if you have one; i.e., using example (B) as given previously, the proper directions would be as follows: "My name is John Doe. My telephone number is 555-1212. I live in Cape Colony. Go through the main gate and keep straight until you reach the second street to the right. This is Locust Street. Turn to the right, and I live in the first green house on the right, midway of the block. I will have the porch light on." This is the type of directions that can make the difference in an emergency. We are currently being dispatched via the County EMS Office and Chowan Hospital. The personnel there are assuming dispatching duties in addition to their regular duties, and are to be commended. It would however be more efficient, accurate and to the better of all concerned, if we had a "Central Dispatch System" as many other counties have, whereby there would be a trained professional to handle all the incoming traffic and in turn, dispatch all law enforcement, fire, rescue and other emergency units as needed. These personnel are trained to extract vital information from an excited caller which might have been otherwise overlooked, and thereby giving those vital "extra precious moments" which are sometimes so desperately needed.

I submit the contents of this letter with all due respect to the citizens of our county, and we of the Edenton-Chowan Rescue Squad earnestly solicit their support and help in the future, as in the past.

Respectfully,
Chuck Noble, Chief
Edenton-Chowan Rescue Squad

THE LINCOLN LIBRARY OF ESSENTIAL INFORMATION

SAVE $100.00

OFF PUBLISHERS ORIGINAL PRICE
PUBLISHED AT $129.95
now $29.95

THE LINCOLN LIBRARY OF ESSENTIAL INFORMATION is the most famous and time honored condensed encyclopedia in the world! Named in honor of Abraham Lincoln, whose inspiring example demonstrated the value of self-education.

This is the latest 39th edition; in continuous publication since 1924.

"THE LINCOLN LIBRARY" has been prepared with two controlling ideas; to embody the greatest amount of useful information that could be reasonably placed in one work; and to select, condense, arrange, and verify the material with a thoroughness and accuracy greater than that attained in any other comparable work.

SCOPE: Much more than a source of information due to the greater range of knowledge even experienced users of books would imagine possible. "THE LINCOLN LIBRARY" offers a vast array of practical information on subjects including Geography, Economics, History, Government, Education, English, Literature, Fine Arts, Mathematics, Science and Biography and much more.

MASS OF CONTENTS: By using every available centimeter of space, and a more concise form, "THE LINCOLN LIBRARY" has been made to exceed the contents of many more expensive encyclopedias of six to thirty volumes. "THE LINCOLN LIBRARY" is a large 2 volume set, 2,323 pages very sturdily bound, thumb indexed, gold edge, weighs 10 1/2 lbs., size 9 x 11 1/2 and almost 4 inches thick, boxed ready for mailing. "At our special low price, this is the best encyclopedia we have ever offered."

This set is useful in the class room, library, home or office. Designed for students and information seeking adults. A wonderful gift for graduation or Father's Day. Supplies are limited at this price.
