

TAKING TRIPS—Congratulations are extended to the Juniors of John A. Holmes High School who have been selected on the basis of academic performance and demonstrated leadership to attend this year's Boys and Girls State Leadership Camps sponsored by the American Legion and Auxilliary. These students will spend a week participating in activities designed to acquaint them with the electoral process and will continue to afford them the experiences needed to become our leaders of tomorrow. The girls are: Angela Lewis, Vickie Nelson, Lillie Sellers. Boys selected are top row: Taylor Brown, Vincent Bond, Joe Hollowell, Jr., and Mike Harmon. Bottom row: Bobby Jones, Garry Copeland, Jerry Stotesbury and Danny Hogan. Not pictured is Milton Hedgebeth.

Weyerhaeuser Group Hits New Production Level

Four units of the Plymouth Wood Products Group have hit new productivity achievements recently. The Lumber Planer Mill crew set a new 2X6 daily record by finishing an average of 41,308 board feet of lumber per hour. The Wood Treating Plant broke a weekly record by producing 57 charges of lumber and 12 charges of landscape timbers for a total of 69 charges. A charge is 23,000 board feet of lumber of 1300 landscape timbers. Also, the Core Edger "B" shift crew produced 536 landscape timbers per hour for the entire week of May 20th.

The Washington Report

by Congressman Walter B. Jones

As usual, the Congress in making appropriations for fiscal year '83, which ends on September 30, failed to appropriate sufficient sums of money for several programs which Congress is required by law to fund properly; these are commonly referred to as entitlements. I have long felt that legislation which is considered entitlement money is one of the contributors to the huge deficit which we now face. In the supplemental bill was the amount of $1 billion, 38 million for the Food Stamp Program. This is in addition to what has previously been appropriated, and this huge sum will only support the Food Stamp Program through September 30. Due to the large number of unemployed, the supplemental legislation appropriated $615 million for the unemployment insurance program. Due to the cost-of-living provisions, the Civil Service retirement fund will receive an additional $342 million. Among other items in the supplemental appropriation was an additional $1 billion, 61 million for Agriculture, but many people fail to realize that of this, $1 billion, 38 million goes for Food Stamps which is charged to the United States Department of Agriculture. So, to the critics of our agricultural programs, we often have to remind them that a far greater amount is appropriated for food stamps than for direct agricultural programs. The entire supplemental appropriation came to $4 billion, 819 million.

Act. The title, Meals on Wheels, is slightly misleading, as only 10% of the food recipients are served in their homes; the other eligible citizens generally meet at a central location. In addition to providing food, it offers some degree of companionship.

When Alaska became a part of the United States, it included the Pribilof Islands, which are isolated islands north of Alaska, and their main source of income has been the harvesting of fur seals. A bill was referred to my Committee, and promptly reported out, to make the Pribilof Islands less dependent on American aid by granting them a sum of $20-million which would be a once and for all payment to them. These funds must be administered by a Commission in an effort to make the Pribilof Islands self-supporting in other activities rather than the complete elimination of the fur seal supply. The records show that this Nation has been sending in various forms of assistance and aid between $6 and $7 million each year. So, the majority of the House and myself found it sound economy to pay cash once and for all, and stop this annual payment. It is estimated that this Act alone will ultimately save approximately $5.8 million per year.

Social Security: Survivor's Benefits

By Lee E. Wallis
Field Representative
Several surveys taken in recent years show that a substantial number of people were not aware that Social Security pays benefits to survivors of workers who have died.

Many people still think of Social Security as just a retirement program.

In fact, about 3000 people in the Albemarle area receive benefits as survivors of deceased workers.

Survivors that can be eligible for benefits are:
• Unmarried children under age 18, or ages 18-19 if full-time high school students, or over age 18 if disabled before age 22.

• A mother or father of any age who is caring for an entitled child under age 16 or disabled.
• A widow or widower ages 50-60 who is disabled.
• A widow or widower age 60 or older.
• The worker's parent age 62 or older if the worker provided at least 50 per cent of the parent's support.

Before any survivor benefits can be paid, the worker must have had enough credit for work covered by Social Security to be insured. The amount of work credit required ranges from 1½ years to 8 years, depending on the worker's age at death.

Benefits can be paid on the Social Security record of a deceased mother as well as a father if the mother was insured at death, even if she had not worked in recent years. More information about Social Security survivor benefits can be obtained by calling the Elizabeth City Social Security office at 338-2161.

Program Is Offered

Students who have completed the third through the sixth grades can participate in a two-week enrichment program, "Summer College for Kids," sponsored by College of the Albemarle. The program will be held from 1 P.M. until 3 P.M. each day from July 5 through July 14 on the Elizabeth City campus.

The two-hour, afternoon sessions have proved popular during the past two summers, according to Clate Aydtlett, SCK coordinator. She said that previously enrollment has been open only to gifted and talented students. This year, however, any student who attends any of the elementary schools in the college's seven-county service area can enroll in the summer program.

Each principal has received a supply of descriptive brochures that explain the content of the six courses to be taught. A registration form is printed on the back.

Aydtlett said interested students who do not get a brochure at school, can pick one up at the COA reception desk located in the lobby of Building A at the North Road Street campus.

Registration for the six, hands-on courses that focus on mathematics, technology, and science will be on a "first-come, first-served" basis. Each class will have a maximum enrollment of 20 students.

Registration will be held at the college on June 27 and 28 from 12 o'clock noon until 6 P.M. The fee for each course is $25.

Talent Show

MERCURY OUTBOARDS

During the week, both the House and Senate approved a bill to provide for the obligation and expenditure of fiscal 1983 funds appropriated in PL 97-377 for MX missile procurement and full-scale engineering development of a basing mode for the MX missile. For many months President Reagan has attempted to get Congress to approve the above legislation providing for MX missiles. As a result of the Congress' failure to agree with the President, the Scowcroft Commission was appointed, and endorsed a bipartisan and interdependent recommendation of modernization, deterrence and arms control, suggesting that legislation similar to that which was passed, be enacted. This does not necessarily mean that the missiles will be built immediately, but the President insisted that in any nuclear disarmament agreement with the Russians, he was in a much better position to deal from strength rather than weakness.

The House approved legislation known as the Veterans Housing Benefits Act of 1983. Many veterans find themselves among the unemployed through no fault of their own, and their homes are being financed by the Veterans Administration. This bill would permit the veterans of their surviving spouses to refinance delinquent home loans. As you may recall, similar legislation was enacted some weeks back permitting certain farm loans to be refinanced rather than foreclosed.

Also, the House authorized $16 million for fiscal year '83 to provide for the so-called "Meals on Wheels" program under the Older Americans

In Who's Who

Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges; Editorial staff and Elizabeth City State University are pleased to announce that the 1983 edition of WHO'S WHO will carry the name of Jo Ann White, daughter of Mrs. Mary E. White, who has been selected as being among the country's most outstanding campus leaders.

Campus nominating committees and editors of the annual directory have included the name of this student based on her academic achievement, service to the community, leadership in extracurricular activities, and future potential.
