Reunion

Reunion between the Presbyterian Church, U.S. and the United Presbyterian Church, U.S.A. will officially take place this next Saturday, June 11th in Atlanta, Ga. Each denomination will have its final vote on the question of Reunion on Friday, June 10th. For 120 years, since the War between the States, the denominations have been separated but have sought ways and means to reunite. They have worked together in the World mission enterprise, Sunday School literature, Seminaries, colleges, Hymnbooks, Worshipbook and many other areas.

First Presbyterian Church, Edenton will have a litany Sunday, June 12, if reunion takes place as proposed. Many members of the congregation have come from the United Presbyterian Church. First Church is a member of the Presbyterian Church, U.S. The congregation is a good mix of north and south. The Pastors that have come have been from both denominations, too.

Last year John Mitchener, III was a Commissioner to the General Assembly that voted for Reunion. This year, the Rev. Spottwood Graves of the Outer Banks Presbyterian Church will be a Commissioner. The Pastor of First Presbyterian, Edenton, the Rev. H.E. Mallinson was Commissioner to the first Joint General Assembly of the two denominations in 1974 at Louisville, Kentucky.

Advantages Of Contact Lenses

Many people opt for contact lenses because they are not happy with the way they look in eyeglasses. This is a real consideration in choosing among the different types of vision correction available today. But there are also a number of more positive and practical reasons for making the switch.

Contact lenses do not "fog up" by changes in temperature or perspiration. They are unaffected by rain and rarely interfere with most activities—even the most strenuous.

Contact lens wearers, unlike eyeglass wearers, usually look through the center of the lenses where vision is best. In addition, there are no frames to interfere with side vision. Consequently, they are preferred by people in certain occupations—such as athletes, photographers, police, and fire-fighters.

Optically, they are the favored treatment for certain vision conditions. These include severe near and farsightedness, irregular astigmatism, or the problems faced by people after removal of a cataract.

Opting For Partial Denture

If you have teeth that should be replaced and are concerned about cost, you may opt for the partial denture. This is the most economical way to meet the need to protect your natural teeth as well as your appearance. Missing teeth not only cause the adjacent teeth to drift, making them more vulnerable to decay, but they also create gaps in your mouth that may cause cheeks to sag as well as mouth and cheek wrinkles. This is a gradual process, but the sooner you replace missing teeth the better for your appearance as well as your dental health. When you opt for a partial denture, the fee is usually based on the whole appliance and not the number of teeth on it.

A partial denture is a removable appliance. You can slip it easily in or out of your mouth. It is made with metal clasps that attach to the nearest and strongest natural teeth on either side. It serves a very important need by filling the gaps caused by missing teeth. Although the removable partial is used primarily to replace back teeth, it can also be used to replace front ones.
