

Miss Holley Wins Contest

Tequila Renee Holley, 4 years old, has won a special photo award from Hollywood

The magazine is an agency which introduces prospective models and actors to the advertising agencies, entertainment profession and the like.

Tequila, the daughter of Mr. & Mrs. Robert Holley of Route 1, Edenton was entered into the magazine's photo contest by her mother. Mrs. Holley had heard of the contest from a friend and later saw an ad for it in a newspaper.

"I wanted to see what it was all about," Mrs. Holley recalls, "I sent a picture (of Tequila) and they told me that they had selected her."

Mrs. Holley's curiosity seems to have paid off as Bonnie Kid an agency from New York has contacted her about the possibility of working with Tequila this summer.

Resigns

Tom Gilmore, chairman of the statewide Committee on Constitutional Integrity, has announced his resignation as chairman of the committee in anticipation of announcing his candidacy for Governor on June 14.

The committee has selected Don Vaughan, a Greensboro attorney and Vice President for Government Affairs of the Stedman Corporation as the new Chairman.

The Committee on Constitutional Integrity is a statewide non-profit foundation dedicated to the study of issues affecting the Constitution of North Carolina. The Committee is composed of 36 prominent citizens from across North Carolina, including former United States Senator Sam Ervin, former Raleigh Mayor Isabella Cannon, and former Chief Justice of the N.C. Court of Appeals Naomi Morris.
