THE CHINA WEDDING

THE SOCIETY EVENT OF THE WEEK.

The China Wedding of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Dickey, which was given at their home last Friday evening—although the weather was unpropitious, nearly all the guests bidden were present, including many from a distance. The cordial reception given to all by the host and hostess, caused each to speedily join some merry group, engaged in animated conversation.

They were all carried away with the beauty of the decorations, in which, new and delightful effects were noticed, as one passed from one brilliantly lighted room to another. We were informed, that the beauty of the scene, was due to the order and good taste, of Mrs. Isbell and daughter, Miss Clara, Mrs. J. E. Stephens, Miss Eva Dickey, Edith Dickey and Burr Mayfield.

The gifts in number, variety and beauty, furnished such a feast for the eyes, as few seldom have pleasure of seeing. Some presents coming from a distance will be received yet. They number over 200 pieces, presented by the following persons:

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Manning, one Berry Set, Messrs. Coggins and Upshaw, one Berry Set, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Cooper, one Berry Set, Mrs. J. H. Isbell, one Cake Plate, Miss Claude Isbell, one Cake Plate, Miss Gurtie Patton, one Set Dessert Plates, Bessie Dickey, one Vase, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Stephens, one Tea Set, W. R. Johnson, one Fish Plate, A. J. Martin, one Pitcher, Mr. and Mrs. Dr. W. O. Patton, one Card Receiver, W. H. Moore, one Card Receiver, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Gurley, one Toilet Set, Misses Sallie and Hettie Cooper, one Afternoon Coffee Set, Edith and Frank Dickey, one Rose Jar, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Posey, and Individual Afternoon Tea Set, H. H. Holt, one Butter Plate, W. H. Dobbs, one Urn, H. E. Love, one Lawn Basket, B. T. Gurley, one Pair of Vases, M. A. Miller, one Lamp, Bruce Crawford, one Orange Basket, Henry McAfee, one Coffee Set, Cup and Saucer, Miss Julia Mayfield, one Set Teas, Mr. and Mrs. Brittain, one Tea Set, Dave McNair, one Vase, W. H. Mitchell, one Rose Jar, F. H. Hambricht, one Toilet Set, Misses Beala, one Pair of Rose Jars, Chas. A. B. Hall, one Cup and Saucer, A. J. Bryan, one Cup and Saucer, J. P. Robinson, one Dinner Set, J. M. Billups, one Pair of Vases, S. G. Garwood, one Vase, J. G. Garwood, and wife, two Cake Plates, Miss Eva Dickey, one Plate and one Fruit Stand, Mrs. J. M. Dickey, one Fruit Basket, M. J. Louis Jennyss and wife, Coffee Set, W. N. Cooper and wife, one Berry Bowl and plate, Marshall Bell, one Set of Pitchers and Finger Bowls, J. C. Axley and wife, one Soap Bowl.

The following are the visiting guests: S. B. Patton and wife, Chas. A. B. Hall, J. S. and Miss Maud Meroney, W. N. Cooper and wife, Dr. W. O. Patton and wife, C. H. Paddock, J. C. Axley and wife, Ben Posey and wife, A. J. Gurley and wife, B. T. Gurley, R. R. Beal and sister Anna, S. B. Henry, L. E. Campbell, A. M. Brittain and wife, Miss Gurtie Patton, A. J. Martin, Misses Sallie and Hettie Cooper, Miss Julia Mayfield, J. P. Robinson, J. E. Stephens and wife and R. L. Cooper, City; A. J. Bryan, Washington, D. C.; M. W. Bell, Salisbury, N. C.; H. E. Love, S. A. Garwood and Charlie Springer, Marietta, Ga.; W. H. Dobbs, Woodstock, Ga.; W. B. Gillespie, Athens, Tenn.; Miss Eva Dickey, Culbertson, N. C.; John Coggins and Henry McAfee, Canton, Ga.; A. C. McAllister, C. W. Upshaw, Bruce Crawford and W. R. Johnson, Atlanta, Ga.; R. N. Mitchell, T. W. Owens, F. M. Hambricht, D. A. McNair and J. M. Wright, Knoxville, Tenn.; W. T. Sprague, Chicago, Ill.; D. H. Lohman and Geo. Hubbard, Lafayette, Ind.; W. H. Shaffer, Pierceville, Ga.; R. Louis Jennyss and wife, Mrs. J. M. Dickey and Carl, Notla, N. C.; A. H. Isbell wife and daughter, Asheville, N. C.; H. H. Holt, Ellijay, Ga.; J. A. Billups, Birmingham, Ala.

The supper was one fit for the Gods, and any man whose heart can be reached through the stomach, must have been a happier man at the end of each course.

Then followed the merry sounds of music and the dance, until the "wee small hours of the morn'g." Congratulations upon the success of the reception was showed upon Mr. and Mrs. Dickey, who had made such lavish provision for the enjoyment of their guests. Twenty years have passed so lightly over their head, they can hardly realize that youth is past. Many more will pass before our young folks will cease to look to them as leaders. In the next twenty years pass off as pleasantly as the past has, is the wish of the SCOUT.

Marble Notes.
We have had a fine run in this portion of the County, and the crops and vegetation, looks like that they will "get there all the same."

Mr. Mary Ragle, of Asheville, N. C., who has been here on a visit to her parents, returned home last week.

Your correspondent having heard of the hospitality of the old folks in Peachtree valley, and of the beauty and the gallantry of the young folks there, he will go to this Valley to see for himself, and will make mention through the columns of the SCOUT, some of the attractive objects to be found there.

It is rumored with good authority, that the orange blossoms are to bloom shortly in the Peachtree Valley.

Mr. O. L. Wright, a polite young man here at Marble, and in the employ of the State, went down to Peachtree on important business. It is most to early to see ripe peaches in this Valley yet, but Mr. Wright saw his peach and honey all the same time.

Mr. Z. B. Whittaker went on a flying trip to Asheville last week, and has returned. He had a big time.

A. B. Smith here at Marble, owns a milch cow that gave birth to two calves last week. The twins look very fine and natural. Your correspondent, (in company with Miss Mabel McMurray), went to see them, and were delighted to see the playfulness of the two youngsters.

Read and Think.

So far as the powers of darkness and false teachers are left at liberty, they will stir up wicked men and silly women, to persecute God's faithful servants hereafter, as in past ages. We may expect a mighty combination of ungodly rulers and corrupt teachers, to hinder and, if possible, extinguish the light and liberty of the gospel; but God will turn their counsel's into foolishness; and make their mischievous plots the means of their own destruction, and at the same time, Christians of the greatest experience, and highest attainments in divine life; and high not what they ought to be; not what they hope to be; not what they wish that they should be; and not what they promise they will be forever in fulfillment of their Father in Heaven their desires will all be complete after awhile if the held out faithful; but God's wishes, is to have all the world to join him in praising his holiness and so far as God gives His opportunity. He will labor to do so.

If I am not mistaken, this is the true missionary spirit, having its foundation in love and obedience into that special command: "Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature," the great honor which a man can receive, is to be employed by the Great Head of the Church as an instrument of advancing the cause of salvation by the world. This honor is possessed by all of his obedient saints, each in their proper station, and they which have to suffer the greatest trials; such is the sad misfortune of some not to be able to do so.

house, and tell me the reason comes last?

Og
A fine Buck weighing 105 pounds, was captured by Rater, (Gus Giffin's Dog), aided by Nelson, Fulber and Dog. Venison plentiful at the Hotel Griffin.

Tall Rye. We was shown a field of Rye measuring seven feet nine inches, grown on Dr. Whitcomb's farm.

James Hartness is entitled to the premium, for the best lawn grass meadow in the County.

Albert James for the best cultivated small farm.

Robert Plemmons comes in for full share of praise for good farming.

Madam Rumor predicts a sensational marriage. Particulars next week.

VITRUM.
A Canning Factory.
Citizens why can't some of you form a stock company, and put up a Canning Factory? If you want to do it, why induce some one to come here that will. There is nothing we know of, that would pay as well as a Canning Factory would for three months in the year.

We have the blackberry, dewberry, strawberry, whortleberry, and different other kinds that we could mention. We have also all kinds of cultivated fruits, apples, peaches, etc.

Our shipping facilities are good as anywhere. You will have a Southern and Eastern market for your goods. You also have a large territory to get your fruits for the business, as there is no Canning Factory between here and Asheville and Atlanta. So you see it would pay handsomely.

Citizens study the matter over, and see if you can't get this paying business started up. Don't set round with your mouths open like you did not care whether Murphy was any thing or not. Stir round and do something for the upbuilding of the town and County.

Ranger Items.
Editors Scout—I see you have communications from other portions of the County, and I think a few dots from Ranger might be of interest to some who read your paper.

We are having rains now, and the farmers are greatly encouraged.

Mr. Louis Jennyss is still improving his farm, and his residence is not quite completed. The painter is here to do the painting.

J. M. Dickey is selling goods by the "wholesale." E. H. DITMORE.

Miss Maud Meroney, the daughter of our Junior Editor, left for Knoxville and other points Monday.
