

VARIABLE ROUTE TICKETS
WILL ADVERTISE SOUTHCLOTHING SCHOOLS HELD BY COUNTY AGENTS POPULAR

Jacksonville, Fla.—The Southern Railway System has announced that this season it will offer to tourists coming from the North and West to Florida resort points a great variety of optional routes with stop-over privileges at all intermediate points in both directions.

This will enable tourists to use different routes on their going and returning journeys and in this way to become acquainted with the attractions and advantages of different sections of the South.

A handsome booklet with maps and detailed descriptions of 116 different routes which are open to travelers using the Southern from Washington, Cincinnati, Louisville, St. Louis or Memphis to winter resorts in Florida and other southern states, has just been issued by the Southern and will cover a wide distribution throughout the North and West.

As the variable route privilege is very popular with tourists it is thought that this booklet will prove a valuable advertisement for Florida and the intermediate sections traversed by the lines of the Southern.

Raleigh Jan. 8.—A very popular phase of the demonstration work for women and girls in 1922 was the clothing schools held in the rural communities and at the county seats by home agents. From early spring to Christmas these have been going on along with the gardening, poultry, and food work, states Mrs. Jay S. McKinnon, in charge of this work for the Agricultural Extension service.

The Alamance home agent reports in March the court room was converted into a work shop and the women came from all over the county to learn to make hats for themselves and to watch others make them. This was followed by a two day school in fifteen communities when 425 washable home-made hats were made if three hats were valued at five dollars each and two dollars was allowed for expense of material, the women of the county would have made a total saving of $1,025.00?

On the Franklin agent's count the cost of a straw hat that was usually Lepeliss. When I told her that I could buy hats at 75 cents each she said "Well, just come to my house all

you want to buy a straw hat and I will pay the cost over a period of time." The entire lot two hats and straw hats cost her $1.50.

She and the woman who lived in a small bunch of houses nearby had a good time and paid

the extra postage on the postage stamp on a cost of postage stamp.

Mrs. E. F. Ransom says that women should discuss the various possibilities and making other forms of clothing than those we are used to in our communities, that there is no reason why we cannot do this.
