Be A Booster!

Boost your city, boost your friend;
 Boost the church that you attend.
 Boost the street on which you are dwelling,
 Boost the goods that you are selling.

Boost the people 'round about you,
 They can get along without you,
 But success will quicker find them,
 If they know that you're behind them.

Boost for every forward movement;
 Boost for every new improvement.
 Boost for the man for whom you
 Boost the stranger and the neighbor labor;

Cease to be a chronic knocker;
 Cease to be a progress-blocker.
 If you'd make your city better,
 Boost it to the final letter!

Just supposin' every fellow did it. Not the talking type of boost—though that's important.

But the real thing—backing up his expressed judgment with real action that gets somewhere.

The kind of boost, for instance, that tells the world what a real live industrial center Murphy is. How many different kinds of minerals are found near here, how many different kinds of wood and lumber are found near here, how many different farm products can be grown on the farms in the county.

That's good boost talk. Everybody who claims to be a wide-awake citizen ought to know about such facts and be able to pass them to the next man.

The merchant who passes up locally manufactured goods and gives pronounced preference all the time to the outside stuff is, in our opinion, standing squarely in his own light.

"Boost the people 'round about you—They can get along without you, But success will quicker find them, If they know you're behind them."

It's a paying game for the booster—this thing of pushing and using home goods.

The Home Goose is the author of a great big golden egg.

Boost the goose.

IN MEMORIAM NELSON RAXTER

By order of Knights of Pythias of Marble Lodge No. 191. We the undersigned submit the following:

Whereas, God has in his wisdom called from this life to life real, and eternal, our beloved brother, Nelson Raxter,

Therefore, be it resolved, that in the premature death of this brother, the lodge has lost a loyal knight, the church has lost a faithful member, and the home a devoted husband and father.

He was born April 3rd, 1874, and died November 26th, 1922, being forty-three years four months and seventeen days old.

He joined the Marble Lodge, Baptist Church September 9th, 1906, and also joined the order of Knights of Pythias November 20th, 1907, to both of which he was always a loyal and faithful member.

The Knights of Pythias of Marble Lodge keenly realize our earthly loss in the departure of our deceased brother, but we feel assured that our loss is his eternal gain.

This brother was an exponent of "Do noble things, not dream them all day long, and make life, death, and that vast forever one grand sweet song."

In the deep hush that o'er us stealing, Father, we come to Thee in humbleness of heart, we kneel appealing, be merciful unto me, be merciful unto me.

Resolved, second, that a copy of this memoriam be sent the family of the deceased brother, and one published in The Cherokee Scout, and one spread upon the records of our lodge.

Fraternally submitted,
 W. J. BARTON,
 J. L. ROBINSON,
 J. A. PARKER,
 Committee.

NOTICE—Have some good work stock, mules, mares, and horses. Will sell cheap or would trade for a good one-ton Ford truck. FRANK D. DICKEY.

W. H. TURNER IS CALLED TO HIS REWARD

On January 28, 1923, W. H. Turner, of Carrollton, Ga., crossed the Great Divide and entered into the realms of God's eternal love and sunshine. He was a true and devoted Christian, and set a beautiful example before his children. He was loved and esteemed by all who knew him, and will be sadly missed by friends and more than anyone else, by his family at the fireside, and yet when we think of the "Land that is Fairer than Day," we realize that it would be wrong to call him back if it were even possible.

He lived in and near Culberson, N. C., for twenty years, moving from there to Carrollton, Ga., twelve years ago. Interment took place at Ball Ground.

He is survived by a widow, four sons, Gus Turner, Copperhill, Tenn.; C. A. Turner, of Miami, Fla.; L. W. Turner, Charleston, S. C.; and H. E. Turner, of Carrollton, Ga.; four daughters, Mrs. Ada Hardaway, Atlanta, Ga.; Mrs. Bessie Collins, of Atlanta, Ga.; Mrs. Rose Sims, Carrollton, Ga.; and Mrs. Mary Couey, of Mason, Ga.
