

Ailing-Children Get Well on Syrup Pepsin

A small dose at bedtime brings relief and laughter by morning

HOSPITAL and doctor's records prove that 75 per cent of human illness has its origin in the intestinal canal, complicated with what is commonly called constipation. Realizing what that figure means, mothers should contrive methods of handling their children's bowels that will control them that will prevent those future dangers. Teach children regularly of bowel movement, and be especially watchful of young girls. Insist on two evacuations a day until the age of 18, when one is usually sufficient. Give plenty of oranges and apples, plenty of butter because it lubricates the intestines, and encourage the drinking of water.

If you detect restlessness, belching, gas or wind on the stomach, sleeplessness, or lack of appetite, examine the tongue and you will find it coated, accompanied by unpleasant breath. The child is laboring, constipated. According to age, give from one-half to a teaspoonful of Dr. Caldwell's

Syrup Pepsin, which children never object to taking as they like the taste. By increasing the youngster will be well again. Likewise if the mother is stuffed up or there is persistent swelling, a dose of Syrup Pepsin will break up the fever and cold.

Mrs. Geo. N. Colson of Bernard, Mo., keeps her family well in that way, and Mrs. Ella A. Burkitt of Carroll, La., who has been using Syrup Pepsin for a dozen years, has raised for three children on it. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a vegetable compound of Egyptian senna and pepsin with agreeable aromatics. The formula, however, is on every package. Druggists have sold it with satisfaction to their customers for over 30 years, and it is now the largest selling family laxative in the world. Buy a bottle today. It will last you for months, and the cost is only about a cent a dose.

YOU

Life has brought me many losses, Many cares and many crosses, With tears and disappointments, too.

Although I may never cure them, I've more patience to endure them, When I recall life brought me you.

Life has taken many pleasures, Taught me that my hoarded treasures, Were ever tinsel and not true, But I scarcely can regret them, And 'tis easier to forget them, When I recall life left me you.

I have neither gifts nor power, Gold, nor fame, nor lordly dower, And sometimes feel I've not my due, But my heart with joy is swelling, And I'm rich beyond all telling, Because of love and smiles from you,
