

LADY GOT SO WEAK COULD SCARCELY STAND

After Suffering From Many Female Troubles This Lady Heard of Cardul and Took It, She Says, "Until I Was Well."

"SOME TIME AGO," says Mrs. Buena McFarland, of R. F. D. 2, Bostic, N. C., "I suffered a great deal with weakness common to women. I had bearing-down pains, my sides and back hurt, and my limbs drew. I would get so weak in my knees I could scarcely stand.

"I was very nervous, and could not rest. I didn't feel like eating. I grew thin, and did not have ambition for anything.

"I had been trying other remedies . . . but did not get any better.

"Some one told us of Cardul, and what it was recommended for. I also took a Ladies Birthday Almanac and read of a case something like mine. I told my husband to get it and I would try it.

"I saw a great improvement after the first bottle (of Cardul), so I kept it up until I was well. Now I am the picture of health."

Thousands of other women have written, to tell of the beneficial results obtained by taking Cardul, and to recommend it to others.

Cardul has stood the test of extensive use, for more than forty years, in the treatment of troubles common to women. Try it.

In Memorium.

The following poem was written by a friend following the death of a woman at Judson, N. C., in 1917. It is published here from an original print by request of Mrs. J. N. Moody. It holds out hope and gives encouragement to one in bereavement.

"THE BROKEN WREATH."

Yes, the family wreath is broken, Oh dear loved ones, can't you see, It's the mighty hand of God, That is working life for thee.

He has plucked our choice flower, From our gardens rich and rare, But His unseen hand is transplanting In His mansions bright and fair.

Then don't stop the clouds of darkness, They will bring the showers we need, They'll refresh the Master's harvest And increase His precious seed.

Let us give to God our praises, That His Holy Will is done, That He took our suffering mother, Who was trusting in His Son.

Oh, I know your souls are burdened With your mighty load of grief, But our blessed Savior tells us That He came to bring relief.

For He'll bear our every burden, And our sorrows gladly share, For He'll take us home to Heaven, If we'll trust and love Him here.

There we'll meet our blessed Savior Who so freely died for all, And we'll meet our dear, old mother, When that mighty roll is called.

So be ready for His coming, He at any time may call, Be ye ready for the Judgment,

Lest in darkness you may fall, Why should we so careless linger, In that road of doubt and sin, Jesus came to make us happy, He will gladly take us in.

Mrs. Annie Smith of this place got shot Friday by Norman Nations, who was shooting at a bird with a twenty-two gun, and accidentally shot Mrs. Smith. She is in the hospital at Whittier, and last reports were that she was on the road to a rapid recovery.

Miss Selmar Jones, of Barker's Creek, spent Saturday night with the Misses Brown of this place.

Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Sutton, of Dillsboro, are visiting friends and relatives here this week.

Mrs. Tennie Sellers and Mrs. Weaver Messer visited at Mrs. Ellen Bungarner's Sunday.

Miss Nellie Nations, of Camp Creek, was a Wilmot visitor Sunday.

He'll pour out our cup of sorrow, And refill with joy and grace, There will be no clouds of darkness, When we meet him face to face.

When the mighty hosts of Heaven, Shall be gathered on that shore, There to meet our precious mother, Where sad parting comes no more.

Then sweet will be the morning, Of life's immortal day, To dwell with her in glory, Forever there to stay.

Tomato plants will grow eight or ten feet high, if tied to a stake and the suckers removed weekly. This is the best way to train them, says Extension Horticulturist R. F. Payne

If you want to know the facts about farm credit in North Carolina write the editor of the extension service at Raleigh for a copy of the May, 1923, Bulletin of the Department of Agriculture. Its title is "Farm Credit in North Carolina."

Don't forget that clean, fresh water kept in a cool spot will make the fowls happy this month.

Keeping In Pace With The World

Every intelligent man or woman wants to know what is going on, not only in the neighborhood but all over the world.

There is only one way to find out. That is through the Newspaper

The Newspapers contain not only news, but the sayings and writings of the world's masters in politics, business, science, literature, art, music.

The Newspaper is at once a friendly gossip and the best of all educators.

Whatever else you read—
