

LADY WAS IN A BAD FIX FROM NERVOUS INDIGESTION

Bloxi, Miss.—"I had, for a year or more, nervous indigestion, or some form of stomach trouble," says Mrs. Alanzo Ford, 1117 Clay Street, this city. "The water I drank at that time seemed to constipate me. I would suffer until I got so nervous I wanted to get down on the floor and roll. I felt like I could tear my clothes.

"Every night, and night after night, I had to take something for a laxative, and it had to be kept up nightly. My side would pain. I looked awful. My skin was sallow and seemed spotted. I would look at my hands and arms, and the flesh looked lifeless.

"I happened to get a Birthday Almanac, so I told my husband I would try the Black-Draught, which I did. I took a few big doses. I felt much better. My liver acted well. I made a good warm tea and drank it that way. Soon I found that nervous, tight feeling was going, as was the pain in my side. I found I did not have to take it every night. Soon, after a few weeks, I could leave it off for a week or so, and I did not suffer with constipation. I gained flesh. I have a good color, and believe it was a stubborn liver, and that Black-Draught did the work.

"I went to my mother's (Mrs. Deeters) one day, and she wasn't well at all. . . I told her we'd try Black-Draught. We did, and now she keeps it to take after eating. It certainly helped her, and we neither will be without it in our homes. It is so simple, and the dose can be regulated as the case may be. We use small doses after meals for indigestion, and larger doses for headache or bad liver."

Theford's Black-Draught liver medicine is for sale everywhere. 184

LIME PAYS IN UNION COUNTY

County Agent Broom Tells Story of the Marvellous Effect It Has in Growing Legumes

MONROE, July 23.—The use of lime and legumes in improving fertility of poor soils in Union County has no more ardent supporter than County Agent T. J. W. Broom. Mr. Broom has worked lime and clover extensively for better soils, more cows, more pastures and more legume crops in his county. He tells a story about the effect of lime and legumes on the farm of G. S. Lee near Monroe. Here is the story exactly as it comes from him:

It is marvellous to see the effect of lime on the growing of red clover. At Mr. G. S. Lee's farm lime has worked wonders. Mr. Lee had me go over his farm with him and see the acres and acres of red clover that was growing on land which, three years ago was as poor as any land in the county. Mr. Lee acted upon our advice and bought a car of lime three years ago and applied two tons per acre on the 20 acre field. He sowed part of the field to oats and red clover, the other part was sown to oats with lespedeza put on part of it in February. The other part was planted to cowpeas, the peas picked and the vines left on the land. The lespedeza was cut for hay and yielded two tons per acre. The peas and the lespedeza land was prepared and sowed to oats and red clover last fall. The oats on the lespedeza land were about six inches higher than on the peas land and the red clover was looking better, however a good part of clover was on both plots. Mr. Lee estimated that he would get 100 loads of hay from the 20 acres at this cutting.

Mr. Lee is so well pleased with his experience with lime that he bought two cars last fall and will buy another car this fall. Mr. Lee sowed 50 bushels of lespedeza this spring, and is very enthusiastic over it as a soil builder and forage crop. He has adopted the practice of sowing lespedeza with red clover in order to thicken up the thin places that may occur in the red clover. Where the red clover is thin, the lespedeza is thick. We have tried this method out on our farm and find it works well. He says there is no excuse for any farmer farming on poor land if he will apply lime and give red clover and lespedeza a chance.

Balance! at sea and on land-

A GREAT ship far out at sea was shaken by an ominous shudder. One of the four propeller blades had been thrown off and before the engines could be stopped the driving shaft began to pound and whip. Sailors dangling in a rope sling went over the stern and chiseled off the opposing blade. Afterwards, with power reduced but balance restored, the vessel made port.

When a cylinder is missing your car goes by jerks. Its power plant is unbalanced. The gasoline that feeds your motor must be balanced. A refining experience of more than half a century and constant research have produced a finely balanced motor fuel called "Standard", the gasoline that gives you instantaneous starting and swift pick-up—maximum power and high, economical mileage. You don't have to turn out of your way to find this balanced gasoline. Every pump you meet with the red "SO" on the globe dispenses this all-round motor fuel. Use it exclusively for all-season economy and satisfaction.
