

Junior Red Cross Spreads Good Will Throughout World

Nearly 5,000,000 pupils in the schools of America are following the standard of unselfish service as members of the American Junior Red Cross, the annual report of the American Red Cross discloses. This valiant host is represented in 125,072 school rooms of 24,289 schools throughout the United States. With a service program that is local, national and international in scope, the American Junior Red Cross is working unflinchingly for health and happiness and in the promotion of activities among boys and girls wherever there is opportunity for usefulness.

Increased activity on the part of the schools enrolled and deeper recognition by school authorities of the educational values of Junior Red Cross have been significant features of the last year. Carrying on educational and relief work in France, Poland, Austria, Hungary, Yugoslavia, Albania, Bulgaria and Rumania, the American Juniors have influenced the forming of Junior departments in the Red Cross organizations of these countries. American boys and girls wearing the "I Serve" button of the Juniors are proving apt messengers of the spirit of good will and mutual understanding through correspondence with pupils in schools scattered throughout the world. At the close of the school year in June 2,009 schools were engaged in correspondence with a like number of schools in Europe; 354 schools in our insular possessions and Alaska territory carried on an exchange of letters with schools in the United States and South Africa. In fact, nearly 2,700 schools with probably 1,000,000 pupils were busy in this fine act of cheerful communication, while 8,347 articles passed through National Headquarters of the Red Cross in exchanges between the interested pupils here and overseas. An incident of the year's advance was the beginning of activity which will eventually install Junior Red Cross in the Indian schools of the United States.

From every section of the country reports of the tour of the unit of crippled children with their chorus which came from the Bakule school in Prague, Czechoslovakia, to show gratitude to the American Juniors for their assistance declare that nothing since the World War has done so much to awaken the Red Cross spirit in the communities visited by the unit. The work of the American Juniors in foreign fields is emphasized in the advancement of playgrounds, scholarships in farm, trade and other schools, community and school garden work, and donations of cash and equipment to children's organizations. In these projects $112,690.17 was spent during the last year in ten European countries, in China and in the Virgin Islands.

"It is incumbent upon the Red Cross to have come thus far only to retreat, that it could have succeeded up to the present time only to fail."—President Coolidge.

Liberal to Ex-Servicemen Over $1,000 was expended by each of the 3,500 American Red Cross Chapters in the past year in behalf of disabled ex-servicemen. The actual total spent was $2,250,000.

Ready to Meet Winter

When winter comes it will find youth equipped for a frolic with it. Innumerable sweaters, jackets, scarfs and caps of warm wool have "sports" written in every stitch of their cozy texture and in their glowing colors. Here is a matched set—jacket, scarf and cap of angora—in two colors (the scarf finished with yarn fringe).

Near of kin to the tailored suit is this trim and dignified street frock, made on the simplest lines of potter twill. For adornment it has a neck-to-hem panel at the front, made of a plaid material, and similar panels in the sleeves. Small, round buttons below the collar and a narrow girdle of the twill, finish it in true tailored style.

Winter's Exquisite Hats

The three smart hats shown above are fair examples of this winter's exquisite millinery, which is superlatively rich, elaborate, flattering. At the top is a turban of metallic brocade, with a tall cascade of braids at the front, bordered with fur. A velvet hat with sectional crown and scalloped brim, is outlined with plaited ribbon and ribbon forms the bow at the side and flowers posed at the front. A rich turban of shirred black velvet has a flare of lace across the top and two jewel-like pins of rhinestone and onyx at the front.

County Agent W. Kerr Scott of Alamance County reports that 175 cotton farmers, recently joined the Cooperative Cotton Association.

Wolf Creek
