

"If Your Pain Is There, What You Need Is a Good Tonic For the Kidneys"

The kidneys are the scavengers and they work day and night in separating and the poisons from the blood. Their signals of distress are easily recognized and include such symptoms as lumbago, backache, depression, drowsiness, irritability, headaches, dizziness, rheumatic twinges, dropsy.

People are realizing more and more every day that the kidneys, just as do the bowels, need to be flushed occasionally. The kidneys are an eliminative organ and are constantly working, separating the poisons from the blood. Under this continual and perpetual action they are apt to congest, and then trouble starts. Uric acid backs up into the system, causing rheumatism, neuralgia, dropsy and many other serious disturbances. It means that you are a victim of uric acid poisoning. Then ask your druggist for Anuric (anti uric acid) and you will very soon become one of hundreds who have been helped by this powerful enemy to uric acid.

Dr. Pierce manufactures Anuric (kidney-backache) tablets and you can obtain a trial pkg. by enclosing 10c and addressing Dr. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

Plant Shade Trees For Beauty And Comfort and Value

shape so as to appear as much like nature's method of planting as possible. If the grounds are quite small of course, they will have to be planted single, but this will be all right, just so they are not put in straight lines.

While shade trees are being planted on the home grounds, don't overlook the school and church grounds because these can be just as greatly improved by the planting of a few shade trees as can the home grounds. Do Not Allow Roots to become Dry. When shade or other trees are ordered from the nursery be very careful not to allow the roots to be exposed to the sunshine and wind, as more young trees die because the root are allowed to dry out before they are set, than from probably all other sources put together. When received from the nursery, dig a hole large enough and deep enough to accommodate the roots without crowding; in this hole mix up thick mud batter using some well rotted cow manure and dip the roots in this mud batter to prevent drying on exposing while planting. Set out immediately or if this is impossible, heel them in. This is nothing more nor less than digging a hole and temporarily planting the trees, lying them down at an angle of about 45 degrees. Then when ready to set, puddle as outlined above and put them in the hole and plant immediately, not allowing the roots to be exposed to sunshine for even 10 or 15 minutes. This may sound like a small point, but it is a very important one.

If shade trees are to be planted in ground that cannot be broken up for a good distance, then, at least a space of three or four feet should be thoroughly pulverized and kept this way for a year or two or until the tree can get a start. Dig the hole big enough so as to be 10 or 12 inches wider than the space of the roots. Also dig it 8 to 10 inches deeper than necessary and then fill in this extra 8 or 10 inches with rich top soil. Put the tree down in the hole, spread out the roots in their natural position filling in around the roots with the top soil and preferably soil that is fairly rich. Pack tightly around the roots, tamping it some, but use care not to knock the bark off the roots with the tamping stick. The hole should be filled at least half full with this rich top soil. After it is half full, if some well rotted stable manure is available, put in several shovelfuls of it and then finish filling the hole with soil. It is not necessary, however, to pack so very tightly except around the roots. An inch or so of loose soil should be left immediately on top.

After the planting is completed, it is a good plan to mulch the trees by spreading a layer of well rotted stable manure on top of the fresh soil. This will serve the purpose of preventing the evaporation of moisture and also will supply some plant food to the tree later on. In setting, be careful to see that the tree stands straight because if it is set out leaning to one side, it will be hard to correct this after growth has started.

Best Shade Trees for South
There are a great many different kinds of trees that are suitable for planting on the home grounds, some of the common of which, we will discuss briefly in the following paragraphs:

The American Elm is one of the most popular. It is a large growing tree, but is a slow grower, and there-

Headache, dizziness, nervousness; Or uric acid and its ills. Help your weakened kidneys with a stimulant diuretic. Use Doan's Pills. Read this interesting testimony: H. G. Rogers, brakeman, Railroad St., Brevard, N. C., says: "My back ached a good deal and when I bent over I could hardly straighten. I had headaches and dizzy spells when black specks appeared before my eyes. I was lame mornings and my kidneys didn't act as they should. Hearing of Doan's Pills, I got a supply and used them. I soon felt like myself again."

fore, should be depended upon only where one can wait a good while before the tree reaches the stage where it will provide much shade.

The Willow Oak is one of the most satisfactory for the lawn. It succeeds under a wide range of soil and climatic conditions and taken as a whole is one of our most beautiful shade trees. It grows comparatively rapid and grows to a height of 50 to 60 feet. The Water Oak is also desirable for shade purposes. The growth is comparatively rapid and it is larger and taller than the Willow Oak.

The Sweet Gum is also a desirable shade tree for practically all sections of the South, particularly the central and lower parts. It grows rapidly and finally reaches a height of 60 to 75 feet. The Sugar Maple is a large growing tree, grows rapidly and is very extensively used in many sections of the South. Taken as a whole it is probably the most desirable for average Southern conditions of any of the Maples. The Norway Maple is a good one, but is very slow growing. Where one can wait a number of years, this variety of Maple will prove highly desirable, especially in the upper portions of the South. One of the toughest shade trees that we have and one that will succeed under a very wide range of conditions is the Hackberry or Sugarberry tree. It grows quite large and will stand many adverse conditions, and with it all, it is a very beautiful tree. One of its especial strong points is that it is almost immune from the various diseases and insects that attack many of the other shade trees.

A very beautiful dwarf growing shade tree is the Red Bud or American Judas tree. It does not grow more than 18 or 20 feet high, but the foliage is very attractive and the purplish red flowers give it a gorgeous appearance early in the spring before the leaves come out. Another small growing tree that should be made use of all over the South is Crepe Myrtle. Because of its beautiful flowers lasting over such a long period of time, it is one of the most desirable of this class of trees. Dogwood is another of these small growing trees that is highly desirable. Its early blooms make it particularly attractive. The Texas Umbrella Tree, The Silver Maple, the Carolina Poplar, the Pecan and Weeping Mulberry are some of the other desirable shade trees.

By planting some of the varieties mentioned, one will not make a mistake. Keep in mind, however, that not all of the good ones are named in this list and wherever one knows of any particular tree, which succeeds well in his own neighborhood, then plant that variety. The pecan is being planted very extensively as a shade tree. This is a good plant, because it makes a beautiful shade tree, and the nuts produced make it valuable for this purpose as well.

"It's not a question of being in style that should concern one about bobbing her hair," says Miss Maude Wallace, Assistant Home Demonstration Agent for the State College of Agriculture, "but she should first decide whether or not it is suitable for her particular type of beauty."

Mrs. Mary Jane Hancock who was reported as having pneumonia from here last week, developed the pneumonia but is now much better and we all hope for her speedy recovery.

Mrs. John E. Coleman spent a few pleasant days with a sister in Atlanta last week returning home Saturday.

Miss Omage Garren who has been attending the Graysville Academy since last August returned home Tuesday night, having completed the school term.

Mr. William Ballew visited his father in Murphy a few days ago while recovering from an attack of influenza and now has resumed his former position with the D. S. C. & I. Co., at Mary Mine.

The Sunday Schools throughout our section are, as a rule, still hibernating. People haven't time to study the word of God any more.

Our farmers are still planting corn. They are the latest throughout this section with their planting in several years.

Insect bites? MENTHOLATUM stops the itching and gives comfort.

SUIT.

Mrs. W. Homer Anderson and son of Akron, Ohio, are visiting relatives here.

Mrs. Vance Mason, of Athens, Tenn., is visiting friends and relatives here.

Quite a number of people from distant communities attended the decoration exercises at Friendship church last Sunday and all seemed to enjoy the talks made by the following ministers: C. F. Corley, Rev. Chastain, and J. B. Decker.

Among those who attended the decoration services here from Copper Hill were: Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hendrix and children, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Dickey and son, Mr. James Miller, Editor of the Copper City Advance, and family, and a Mr. Standridge and family.

Messrs. L. M. and L. W. Shields were in attendance at the decoration services here last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Smiths of Murphy and Miss Galea Barton of Birch were dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. McNabb Sunday.

Mr. Mat Stiles, of Ducktown, took dinner Sunday with R. L. Keenum.

Quite a lot of people enjoyed the singing given by the Friendship choir last Saturday night and promised to be with us again on next Saturday night.

Mr. Lee Wood has returned from Akron, Ohio.

Miss Hattie Lawrence has returned home from Gastonia.

Dan Cupid has been hurling his venomous arrows around Suit and naturally the wedding bells could not help but ring.

If you feel tired and blue, Come to Suit next Saturday night. When we've sung a song or two, You'll be feeling, oh, just right!

Come and help us train our choir. Bring your song book, flute or lyre. But certainly don't forget to come. For if you do you'll miss it some.

OWL CREEK

Mrs. Viola Lovingood and Mrs. Roy Lovingood have been visiting Mrs. W. F. Daniels the past week.

Mr. Paris Sneed of Ebenezer visited on Owl Creek Sunday.

Mr. S. C. Gentry and Sheridan Dickey visited Mr. J. W. Palmer on Sunday.

Mr. Thomas Kephart and wife visited his brother, S. L. Kephart, Sunday.

The Sunday school is progressing nicely at Owl Creek.

Mrs. Newt Kephart returned from Tennessee Saturday where she had been to attend the funeral of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Rastus Lovingood.

The singing class at Owl Creek is practicing to sing for the banner on June the 8th, 1924, at Marble.

Mr. John McRea and Ralph Grey returned to the head of Davis Creek where they are at work on the Tellico River Railroad.

OGREETA.

Rev. W. D. Hogsed filled his appointment Saturday and Sunday. A large crowd was present.

Sheriff W. P. Odom was visiting home folks Sunday.

Mr. Allen Chambers, who is working on Davis Creek, visited home folks at OGREETA Sunday. Allen has purchased a nice Ford car and it is a question in the minds of the people which knows more about keeping it in the middle of the road—Allen or the car.

We are glad to announce that our Sunday school is steadily improving. The number enrolled reached 47 Sunday.

Boost your community instead of knocking it. The knocker is worth nothing to himself or his community.

The people seemed to be delighted with the prospects of the long-delayed power company beginning work on the hydro-electric dams in the near future.

Mrs. J. W. Odom is visiting her father, Mr. A. W. Hall.

Pain In Back & Sides
"FOR A LONG TIME," says Mrs. Dora Payne, of Huntington, Tenn., "I felt listless, tired and worn-out. I did not feel like doing my work, visiting or anything. I suffered much pain in my back and sides. My limbs hurt, my knees would tremble without apparent cause and I would have to sit down. I was very nervous. . . I would have a tired, dull headache. I had read so much about Cardui I asked my husband to get it for me. The very first bottle seemed to help me. After the second . . . I was better than I had been in months. I certainly can praise Cardui. I have taken three bottles. Now I hardly wait when the sun shines, to garden. I am feeling fine." Similar results to those described above have been reported by thousands of other women. Cardui's 40 years of success should encourage you to give it a thorough trial for the relief of any common female ailments. For sale everywhere.
