

NO MORE SPELLS OF DIZZINESS

Four Oaks residents declared sufferings were soon ended after taking stella vitae

"My first bottle of Stella Vitae helped me so much I sent for two more and they completely relieved my sufferings," says Mrs. John N. Weaver, Route 1, Box 98, Four Oak, N. C., recently.

"About two years ago my health failed and I got so weak and miserable I was unable to do any household work. My back hurt me terribly and even to bend over to put on my shoes would almost kill me. Awful spells of dizziness would come on me suddenly and I would have dropped to the floor but for grabbing hold of something. I was constantly afraid of hurting myself.

"One day I found in a County store Stella Vitae on sale and got one a bottle. It helped me so much I sent for more and after taking three bottles I was completely relieved. I never get dizzy now and my back has eased up and I am strong and well as I could wish to be."

Note—Stella Vitae may be obtained from R. S. Parker and the purchase price will be refunded if it fails to bring relief.—Adv.

USES HIS RADIO SET TO GET MARKET TIPS

Farmer in Ohio Realizes Tidy Profit by Picking Up Wireless Market News Out of the Air.

Most radio fans find that their radio sets pay dividends in entertainment and instruction, but the farmer who tunes in WGY and other stations sending out produce market reports is in a preferred position. The farmer on occasion may turn radio market information into cash and make such information pay him dividends on his set. One such farmer is reported by colieve them. Then I 'tune-in' for another city and get their prices. Afterward I go over these reports and compare them.

"It is a simple matter then to estimate distance, shipping cost, and so forth, and from this I can select my market.

"Dealers in these cities are aware of my method, and I have made ar-

In Genial Touch With the World and its markets.

F. R. Correns of Roxbury, O., in the Southern Ruralist, recently:

John Weldon, a farmer of my vicinity, recently got a tip from the air which yielded him $19.50. The "tip" was an unexpected rise in the live stock market, coming at a time when Weldon was preparing to sell a shipment of hogs to a local buyer.

As a result he got in touch with the city market, and $19.50 was his profit over the local buyer's quotations after all shipping expenses were paid.

This was not a streak of luck, however, for Weldon gets such tips frequently, and they are a part of his plan for making his radio pay its way.

Keeps Market Ledger by Air. "When I installed my outfit in 1922 I determined to get something from the air besides music," Weldon told me recently. "I could receive reports from two large city markets and a number of smaller ones, and to keep tabs on these I bought a ledger.

"At the top of each blank page I wrote down the city where the market was located and names of the principal dealers therein with their addresses. This book is kept on the table where the radio is located, and when I have something to market I get in touch with one of these cities and write down quotations as I reportsments with them by letter, to communicate my shipments at any one. This not only applies to live stock, but to poultry, eggs and butter. The latter articles are shipped by parcel post the morning after the quotations are received.

Range of Markets Increased. "I have a wide range of markets to select from, where formerly I was compelled to depend upon a local buyer's quotations or those in the newspaper, which were always two days late.

"And the radio offers another advantage: By getting weather reports and crop conditions from different parts of the country I can guess pretty accurately the trend of the market. "From the news reports I learn beforehand about railroad strikes, freight tie-ups, grain pools and many other conditions which are likely to affect the price of products grown upon my farm. I have a ledger filled with information of this sort, and it has become a habit with me to keep it open for new tips whenever an evening's program is broadcast.

"It is not difficult to make a radio pay dividends when rightly handled, and scarcely a week passes without my outfit yielding me something of value."

North Carolina is the only State in the South except Virginia and Maryland which has increased its average corn yields per acre since 1910, finds C. B. Williams, Chief of the Division of Agronomy of the North Carolina Experiment Station. The yield in this state has increased from 18.6 bushels per acre in 1910 to 22.9 bushels in 1923. Figured at a value of $1.00 per bushel this increase was worth over ten millions of dollars to the State last year.

WORK

In city streets, on country highways, in farm structures and industrial plants, small and large, concrete is being more and more used. Why?

First because it meets the modern necessity for economy. Atlas is cheaper today than thirty years ago. And second because man's work must be safeguarded.

Structures built with Atlas protect both the worker and his product, for they are permanent and fire-safe. Tell your building material dealer about your building plans and ask him about materials. He can be of real help.

The Men Who Serve You Whom You Do Not See

Ticket sellers, gatemen, conductors, dining car stewards, waiters and porters are about the only employees of a railroad with whom you ever come in contact; yet, in the operation of a great transportation system, almost every trade and profession is represented.

In order to maintain the high standard of safety, conduct and passenger service, the Louisville & Nashville Railroad, more than 82,000 men and women each day perform some special and definite task.

Approximately 300 executives direct the operation of various departments; 7,000 clerks handle the mass of detail, records, figures, etc.; 12,400 track workers guard the safety of passengers; 13,800 mechanics and helpers keep the equipment in repair, while 2,000 brakemen and flagmen, 5,000 dispatchers, agents, and others, 1,000 conductors, 3,400 engineers and firemen complete the list of active workers. To this number must be added construction engineers, lawyers, doctors, agricultural agents and other specialists—all of whom contribute to the sum total of successful railroad operation.

Remember that one out of every fifteen bread winners in the Nation is employed in the transportation industry, and that these employees are good citizens—an asset to any community.

GAMES AND GOODIES

by Drusilla Dare

Scandinavian Scandal is a form of "Pass It" which creates much merriment. Have everyone sit in a ring then one person turns to his neighbor and whispers a sentence very rapidly. This person in turn whispers what he heard to the next one and so on around the circle. No one is allowed to repeat but must pass on what he thought he heard. The last person must repeat it around. It is usually far different from the first remark. Then the one who started it originally tells what the sentence really was.

Corn Bread for Husky Kids

"Corn-fed" kiddies have pretty plump cheeks and so do corn-bread kiddies, 'specially when it's made like this:

- 1 cup corn meal
- 1 cup self-rising flour
- 3 tablespoons sugar
- 1 1/2 cups sweet milk
- 1 egg
- 2 tablespoons shortening

Mix and sift dry ingredients, add milk, beaten egg, and melted shortening; beat well and pour into greased pan. Bake in a hot oven.

Tom Tarheel says that the folks in this neighborhood have already made their plans for the community fair this fall. They intend to show the progress made during the year.
