other jobs considered more important. For example, about the time plants should be set in the field corn may need cultivation. The plants are left standing in the plant beds, where they shoot up rapidly on warm days and, due to crowding, wet fall and spindly and wilt badly when set in the field, or sun scald. Such plants never produce as satisfactory a crop as short, stocky plants set in the field at the time conditions are most favorable. The grower who is going to neglect the crop at critical times had better let it alone.

First, seed was sown in a seedbed in the open ground as soon as weather conditions permitted in the spring. The plants were grown in rows 18 inches apart and thinned to stand 2 inches apart in the row. When sufficient size they were taken to the field without any particular care about not disturbing the roots. The yield was 5.25 tons per acre, or about 200 bushels.

Second, the seed was sown in a hotbed, in drills 6 inches apart and when 1 inch high the plants were thinned to stand 2 inches apart in the row. At transplanting time they were removed with soil adhering to the roots. The soil was cut around the plant with a butcher knife, a ball of earth lifted with the roots and the entire mass planted in the field. The yield was 10.15 tons, or 406 bushels.

Third, plants were grown as above. When first true leaves appeared they were transplanted to shallow boxes to stand 2 inches apart each way. When set in the field the roots were disturbed very little. The yield was 10.3 tons, or 412 bushels.

Fourth, plants were grown in the same manner as listed method except they were transplanted twice, the second transplanting being 4 inches apart each way. The yield per acre was 10.82 tons, or 432 bushels.

Fifth, three or four seeds were sown in dirt bands placed in the hotbed. Later they were thinned so that one plant was in each dirt band. Plants including dirt band were set in the field without disturbing the tucky affixed his signature to the charter which made the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company a going concern. The tracks of the company at that time comprised a distance of only 185 miles between the two cities. Today the system comprises more than 5,000 miles of track, and serves 14 states and practically every population and trade center in the South.

Notable among modern through trains running over the L. & N. tracks may be mentioned the "Pan-American," the "New Orleans Limited," "New York and New Orleans Limited," "Piedmont Limited," the "Dixie Flyer" and "Dixie Limited," "Southland," and the "New Orleans and Florida Limited." A number of other strictly up-to-date trains are operated between the important cities served by this railroad. The L. & N. is one of the few great trunk line systems which has never been in the hands of a receiver. It has never failed to pay every dollar due its workers, its creditors, its bond holders; and during a great majority of those 75 years it has paid dividends to the stockholders. This notable record of consecration to its duty to the public in general, to its employees, and to its friends, has earned for the road the name—"The Old Reliable."

Childs, & Stomach Trouble

MR. N. A. SMITH, of Shaw, Miss., says he can't remember being without Theodor's Black-Draught liver medicine since he and Mrs. Smith began keeping house, many years ago. "When we have chills," says Mr. Smith, "Black-Draught is what we use and we find it just splendid. I had a bad case of stomach trouble. I couldn't eat enough and was very weak. Everything I ate hurt me, formed gas and I spit up my food. I would feel stupid or staggery. I didn't feel like doing any work. I knew what Black-Draught had done in colds I began taking small doses. I certainly got relief. It did me lots of good. "When I go to town, I look first to see how near out of Black-Draught we are, and then get more. We are a good way from the doctor and keep our home remedies and the main one is Black-Draught."

In hundreds of thousands of homes, housekeepers keep Black-Draught on the shelf, handy for use when needed, as a household remedy to relieve constipation, biliousness, indigestion, and many other simple ailments. "A dose in time saves nine." A dose of Black-Draught costs only one cent. It may save you a big bill for medicine later on. Keep it on your shelf. Buy it at your store. Get a package today.

L. & N. Celebrates 75th Anniversary

Local officials of the L. & N. Railroad this week received announcements sent out from the executive offices of the company at Louisville, Kentucky, announcing the 75th anniversary of the corporate existence of this railroad which is being celebrated during the week, March 2 to 8th. A large and attractive folder was distributed to all agents of the railroad which tells of the development of both the territory served by the Louisville & Nashville Railroad and of the railroad itself. Large display advertising is being used in the columns of the newspapers in the territory served by this railroad and the attention of the public directed in various ways to the anniversary.

This company has been successfully serving the Southern territory for three quarters of a century. On March 5, 1850, the Governor of Ken-

MRS. BEULAH WALL

Gastonia, N. C.—"Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best tonic and nerve that I have ever taken and I would never hesitate to recommend it to any woman who is ill, or nervous. I was weak and nervous after my first baby came, would have dizzy spells and headaches. I also had functional disturbances but after I started taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription my system became regulated and then my pains and aches disappeared. I took several bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and was just as well and strong as a woman could wish to be."
