"IF ALL WHO HATE WOULD LOVE US"

By Mae Abernathy
If all who hate would love us,
And all our lovers were true,
The stars that shine above us
Would brighten in the blue
If cruel words were kisses,
And every scowl a smile,
A better world than this is
Would hardly be worth while
If curses would not tighten,
To meet a brother's need
The load we bear would lighten
Above the grave of greed.

If there who whine would whistle
And those who languish laugh,
The rose would cast the thistle
The grain out run the chaff,
If hearts were only lolly,
If grievous was forgot
And tears were melancholy
Were things that now are not,
Then love would kneel to duty
And all the world would seem
A bridal bower of beauty,
A dream within a dream.

If men would cease to worry,
And women cease to sigh
And all be glad to bury
Whatever has to die,
If neighbor spoke to neighbor
As love demands of all,
The rust would eat the saber
The spear stay on the wall,
Then every day would glisten
And every eye would shine,
And God would pause to listen,
And life would be divine.

JUST SOUTH THE THIRTY-FIFTH PARALLEL LATITUDE

Blairsville, Ga., Nov. 23.—(Special Correspondency)—In one of the fashionable ultra modern churches of the city of Atlanta a short time ago, the music was of the usual kind rendered by fashionable choirs of the city churches. The choir began with a scriptural poem that compares Solomon to the lilies of the field. Although never possessing a great admiration for Solomon, we have ever considered him a proper person to hold up as a shining example before the Christian associations, still a pang of pity was felt for him when the song was over. All through the sermon a hope was entertained that the next selection might be one that would not excite our resistibilities or allow us to think that the renowned king of Israelites had been slandered. But again at the end of the sermon the nimble soprano started off with a laudable though rather startling announcement, "I Will Wash". Straightway the alto, not to be outdone, declared that she would wash, then the tenor finding it the very thing to do warbled that he would wash, then the deep-toned bass thundered that he would wash. Next a solo soloist on the organ which sounded strongly of escaping steam or the splash of waves, after which individually and collectively they assented the firm resolve that they would wash. At last they solved the problem by asserting that they proposed to wash their hands in innocency.

Life is made up of little things and death should be the smallest of all. The day is made up of thousands of little rays. The night is radiant with thousands of little stars. It is the little things of life that we like best. Little words are the sweetest. Little lilies are the stillest. Little hearts are the fullest. Little books are most read, and little songs are the most loved. The Lord's prayer is very short but is direct and consummates all that we would ask. Preachers that have received the smallest salaries have become immortal. Remember the Savior King that preached the sermon on the mount. Let us pay our preachers if they do work on Sunday. The famous Billy Sunday received forty thousand dollars for telling Atlanta, Georgia of her sins. Christ received a crown of thorns for redeeming a lost world. The ministers of Union County are paid with wool socks, fleeces of strong bacon, gaudy red pepper and moldy dried fruit, "By their fruits ye shall know them".

Backache on the Farm

The farmer's wife who bears and rears children, does her own housework, keeps chickens and has other outside work to do, needs a sound back to carry her burden of toil. So does the farmer, who has to work early and late, and to do much bending and lifting.

Unfortunately, it is a fact that more farm men and women than other people suffer with lame or aching backs, and it is a trouble that allows hardly a moment's peace, day or night.

Chronic backache is very often due to weak kidneys and for kidney trouble, Dr. Pierce has worked out a new and special remedy, "An-uric." Ask your nearest dealer for it.

"An-uric," by increasing the flow of the urine, helps the kidneys to flush out of the system the uric poisons that cause the damage to the kidneys. It adds, the aching back, swollen joints and many other pains that are ordinarily called rheumatism.

This fact proves that while Catarrh is a local disease, it is greatly influenced by constitutional conditions. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE consists of an Ointment which quickly relieves by local application, and the Internal Medicine, a Tonic, which assists in improving the General Health.
