

ARE YOU SITTING IN JUDGEMENT?

The merchants of Murphy are your friends. Are you sitting in judgement against that friendship? Are you sending your money away from Murphy when it is plentiful, when times are good and when crops are good—and when times are strenuous, crops fail, money is scarce do you seek out the friendly home-town merchant and ask him for credit?

Do you realize the predicament you would be left in if every merchant in Murphy should get burned out, or be forced out of business some other way? Without doubt, the people of Murphy and vicinity would be left in bad shape. Some would say: "Why, no. The mail order houses will ship us goods." Yes, they will, to be sure. But when they do, it will be C. O. D. or "Cash with Order."

You can send and keep on sending your money to the mail order houses, but some day—yes, Some day—you will call on the merchant of your own home town for HELP. Then the merchant will come to your rescue, and because they charge a few cents more than the mail order house you think it highway robbery. The mail order house does not pay any taxes here or contribute in any other way to the welfare and prosperity of Murphy and this section, but every dollar they receive is kept, and does not return. Besides, the local merchant is here to back up and make good what he sells you, and you are not buying and paying for something before you see it.
