

LIONS VS. TIGERS

We are referring to the lions of the jungles and not the "lion-tamers" of Murphy. For long years the lion has been known as the "king of beasts" but now we hear another story from those who are in position to know. They tell us that when the lion meets the Bengal tiger, the tiger wins. The tiger is a cleaner and better fighter and earns his victory. He wins on quality. There also is found the reason for our being leaders in the sales of I. C. Hooping Saus.
