WOLF CREEK
(Last Week's Locals.)

The heaviest snow of several years fell here last week and lasted a week.

The remains of Mr. Jern Harris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Noah Harris of near Isabella, Tenn., were taken thru our section late last Sunday to be interred at Harris Chapel in the Persimmon Creek section. Mr. Harris had been sick several months. He was a victim of pellagra. He leaves a wife and several children to mourn.

The Home and School meeting at the rural school last Saturday night was a success, so reported all who were present. Mrs. Burdick, the principle teacher, has a knack of getting up programs that entertain.

Miss Juanita Simons, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martis Simonds has been very sick for several days and is no better at this writing. It is thought that she has appendicitis.

The report is current here that R. M. Franks a deputy sheriff of Ducktown, while in the act of making a search for liquor in the home of a Mrs. Loudermilk in Bonds Town, Sunday was shot by some one in the house with a shot gun, the load of shot lodging in his breast. He was carried to the hospital at Copperhill, and is reported to be in a very serious condition. Rumor says that the best feelings did not exist between the two parties. No doubt the guilty party will be brought to trial.

Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Morgan and four children of near Ducktown, visited the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Riley Morgan, here Sunday. Elbert says "This is the last visit 'till the roads get better."

Mr. J. T. Westmoreland has commenced to lay down the lumber for his new home near Macedonia church. Word reached here the latter part of last week that Colonel Tom Brown of Blue Ridge, Ga., was dead. Mr. Brown was well known throughout this section.

The roads through our section are almost impassable, but the Tennessee officials are going ahead with their end of the work on the Hot House Road. We hope our end of the work will be going soon.
