MURPHY LUMBER CONCERN ENTERS NEW OFFICE BLDG.

Cherokee Manufacturing Company completes First Building in Series to Be Erected This Year

The Cherokee Manufacturing Company, operators of a local planing mill and dealers in lumber and building hardware, of which Mr. R. F. Williamson is manager, moved the office this week into the first of a series of buildings to be erected this year.

The building comprising the office and store room has been practically completed. It is a frame structure 42 x 42 feet, and was erecting on Walnut street, with separate entrances for the office and store room. On the interior, the office is separated from the store room by French doors. The interior of the office, including the ceiling and wainscoting, is done in a rural finish, while the trimmings are finished with an oak stain. A built-in medicine cabinet, with mirror, is placed on one of the walls. The desks, with one or two extensions, are ordinary kitchen tables.

The office room was finished and equipped primarily for the purpose of showing the different uses of lumber, stated Mr. Williamson. The store room, which will house the desks, windows, roofing and building hardware, is not so elegantly finished as the office, but is large, roomy and conveniently arranged.

This building is one of a series this company plans to erect this year, in order to take care of the expanding business it is enjoying. Not so much the expansion, Mr. Williamson stated, as for the better facilities for trying and handling a more complete stock of what they now handle.

It is planned to tear down the old office building to make room for another extension of the building just finished, which will be 42 x 150 feet, and extend from the rear of and in line with the new building back to the railroad. The branch running through this property to the right of the new building will be covered over with either terra cotta or cement boxing, filled in and used as a driveway, which will also extend back to the railroad. It is planned to rebuild the planing mill building where it now stands, and prepare a space between it and the boiler house as a brick yard.

The Cherokee Manufacturing Company owns a valuable strip of real estate between Walnut street and the Southern Railway, which it purchased a year or so ago from the defunct Cherokee Company, and on which the present business of the concern is located.

This company received national recognition last year when it staged one of the most unique bargain sales in the history of the lumber business. The National Lumberman, and is to be the leading magazine of the lumber business in the United States, if not the world, carried a lengthy article on the manner in which the sale was conducted and the results obtained, and many inquiries were received from all parts of the country soliciting information as to how it was done. The sale was the direct cause of this company receiving more cash business during a five-day period than it had during the same length of time in its history.

Mr. Emory Lovingood, of Marble, has been at the Dickey House for the past several weeks in the capacity of clerk since the resignation of Mr. J. R. Axley, who is now assisting his father in their retail grocery business.

Mr. G. W. Ellis was out of town today this week on business.

WHAT IS CANCER?

American Society for the Control of Cancer
25 W. 43rd St., New York City, North Carolina Society for the Control of Cancer
Priddy Building, Durham, N. C.

According to Prof. James Ewing, one of the best known authorities on the subject, cancer is characterized by an unrestrained and unrestrainable local lump or sore which becomes larger and larger and in many instances sends to other parts of the body minute particles of its own tissue which starts cancer growth elsewhere.

Cancer is local at first, trifling and in many instances painless. Something goes wrong with the mechanism of the body and an unwholesome, persistent growth begins, which growth when begun cannot stop itself but must be destroyed or removed by scientific procedure.

Cancer may occur anywhere on the outside or inside of the body. It is very small and trifling to begin with. When it occurs on the outside it is, of course, easily discovered in its early stage and it is at this time that effective treatment brings about a cure. After particles of the cancer have found their way to other parts of the body and given rise to new growth the situation is much more serious.

To cure cancer it is necessary to find out where it is and it is necessary that it be removed either by surgical or other therapeutic means. The most malignant cancer was a simple and apparently harmless thing when it began; therefore, all suspicious growths should receive careful attention in their early stages.
